Grand Championships Awarded Alberta For Both Livestock, Grain

CLYDESDALES, SOUTHDOWNS; OATS AND WHEAT

Saskatchewan Also Had an Eventful Day in Prizes—Prof. Cutler Elected President International Crop Improvement Association—240 Competitors in Oats Met by J. B. Lucas, Cayley

(By Cora Hind)

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—(Canadian Press)—This has been Canada's day for championships at the big International Livestock Show. The following are some of the good things which she won in a fair fight and no favors:

Grand championship for Clydesdale Stallion championship for American bred Clydesdale mares; reserve senior and reserve grand championships for Clydesdale mares; grand championship for Southdown sheep.

Sweepstakes grand championship for wheat for the continent of America, sweepstakes grand championship for oats for the continent of America; championship for Durum wheat for America.

Other notable events of the day, were: the election of Professor Cutler of the University of Alberta, as president of the International Improvement Association, and the purchase by the Alberta government of an $8,000 Percheron stallion.

The following are the achievements of Alberta for the day: Sweepstakes for oats, J. B. Lucas, of Cayley, taking the five regions into which the continent of America is divided. There were 240 competitors in oats, so that this sweepstakes was a notable achievement. In addition Alberta won a number of placings in hard spring wheat.

The Percheron stallion purchased by the Alberta government is Job 84808, an imported sire who has been head of the stud of Dunhams of Wayne, Illinois, for the past year. He is eleven years old and has a great breeding record. One of his foals is at present in Alberta, and was first at the Calgary Spring Show, which went above the well-known horse, Keota Jalop. The Hon. Duncan Marshall had with him in the purchase, the two Carlyle brothers, both judges of horses and in addition the advice of Alexander Galbraith, one of the best judges of horses in America. The price paid is $8,000 Canadian money, the stipulation being that the government of Alberta's cheque be accepted at its face value.

The Saskatchewan Honors

In Saskatchewan, starting with Clydesdales, "Wee Donald," a Canadian bred horse, owned by C. A. Weaver, Lloydminster, Sask., was first as aged stallion in a class of thirteen and was later made grand champion stallion of the breed. He was in perfect shape, and already more than one American breeder has made a bid for him.

In female classes: Lady Bruce of Lumsden, owned by the University of Saskatchewan, was second in a class of 24. She was beaten for first place by Rosalind, an imported mare, whose sire was Dunure Footprint. Lady Bruce of Lumsden, Saskatchewan, was later champion American bred mare, reserve senior and reserve grand champion.

The full winnings of Saskatchewan in Clydesdales were by classes as follows:

In aged stallion, first with Wee Donald. In stallions three years and under second with Zero King, owned by Sinclair, Regina, and third with Glenifer Blend, owned by Thomas Halpenny.

In stallions two and under three, in a class of fifteen, second with Carradoc Hiawatha owned by Swanton Haggesty. In aged mares, second, with Lady Bruce of Lumsden; in mares, two years and under three, second with Caradoc Ideal, owned by Haggerty and fifth with Rosie Perfection owned by Halpenny.

J. C. Mitchell Wheat Prize

In the hay and grain show, J. C. Mitchell, of Dalhinda, carried off the grand sweepstakes for wheat of all kinds against more than 200 competitors.

This is the second year in succession that Mr. Mitchell has carried off this prize. There were 25 prizes offered in the class for hard spring wheat, and 20 of them came to Western Canada, Saskatchewan getting a goodly number of placings besides the first. The highest of these, fifth by Seager Wheeler, of Rosthern.

J. C. Healy, of Lloydminster, got fourth in six rowed barley in a class of 58 competitors.

Quieter for Manitoba

Manitoba had a quieter day than her neighbors as the breeding Yorkshires will not be judged until tomorrow and they had no other livestock in the show. However, the day was not uneventful, as R. F. Gorman got first and E. E. Young second for Durum wheat and in hard spring wheat E. E. Young was second and R. F. Gordman third, while the tenth placing on hard spring wheat went to Smith. All these men are of Oaklake.

WAR VETERANS REPORT MORE UNEMPLOYMENT

Hard Luck Tales Told of Both Married And Single Men Who Served

OTTAWA, Dec. 1.—(Canadian Press.)—Telegraphic reports received by the Dominion headquarters of the G.W.V.A. indicate that unemployment among returned men is becoming serious. The worst reports come from the West, Toronto and Montreal. In the industrial centres of the Maritime provinces, apparently, the situation is not so bad.

From Regina today a report is to hand that married men are on the verge of starvation and that the association funds are low.

Edmonton reports that single men, following harvesting and threshing, are drifting in from all parts of Alberta, looking for employment.

Vancouver reports the unemployment situation as very serious, as does Toronto.

In Winnipeg, according to G.W.V.A. advices, men with minor disabilities especially are finding great difficulties in securing work, as they are not able to do heavy manual labor.

From Montreal comes word that the situation, although bad now, is going to be much worse, as a number of large companies are being forced to lay off men.

The situation is one which has already been taken up at a conference before G.W.V.A. officials and the prime minister, when, it is understood, assurance was given that everything possible would be done by the government.

LONDON VIEWS ON ENTRANCE NEW DIPLOMATS

Move by South Africa to Obtain Location Recalls Canadian Position

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(Canadian Press.)—The acquisition by the government of the Union of South Africa of the Morley Hotel as a London headquarters is a reminder that some years ago Canada had an option on the building on the opposite side of Trafalgar square, which would have furnished as prominent a position for Canada as that which South Africa has now secured.

The scheme came to nothing, principally through the objections of Lord Strathcona, who was resolved that the Canadian offices should remain on Victoria street, Westminster. It is understood, however, that the Canadian Immigration department, which for many years has been located at Charing Cross, will shortly be transferred into a portion of the premises occupied by the British Columbia agent on Regent street.

This is the most handsome Canadian building in London at present. It is believed that the British Columbia government is anxous to reduce the cost of its upkeep. Seemingly the late Earl Grey's scheme for a united Canadian office building on the Aldwych site near the Strand has been definitely abandoned.

The Times remarks that it is to be hoped that the South African government will now make a definite appointment to the office of high commissioner, vacant since the death of W. P. Schriener more than a year ago. Sir Reginald Blankenberg has filled the gap admirably, but, The Times says, it is hardly fair to allow him to be burdened indefinitely with the responsibility involved. It is pointed out by The Times that a general election is taking place in South Africa in February, and the political atmosphere should then be clearer and a new appointment possible.

The searches were carried on mostly in the southwest portion of the city, which is largely a residential district for the middle classes. Two men were detained as a result of the searches. One of them later was released, no charge having been preferred against him. The police are maintaining the greatest secrecy with regard to their operations.

LONDON BODY UNEMPLOYED FOLLOW ITALY

Seize Town Hall at Edmonton And Public Baths Building

LONDON, Dec. 1.—A large body of unemployed late today took possession of the public baths in the suburb of Walthamstow and placed pickets around it. They then informed the borough council that the premises would be occupied until another building was furnished as a shelter and a centre from which to distribute food supplies.

The members of the deputation which waited on the borough council said they had faced the Germans and that they would not see their children starve. Unemployed persons carried out a demonstration in the borough of Hackney and clashed with the police tonight when the demonstrators attempted to occupy a vacant house.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Restiveness among the city's unemployed, coupled with the lack of housing accommodation, led to the seizure of the town hall of Edmonton, a northern suburb of London, by several hundred men today. The occupation of the building was completed without violence. The men stated that they will use the town hall as their headquarters until something is done for them. The town hall at Tottenham, another working district was the scene of a similar peaceable seizure yesterday. The unemployed men who took possession of the building, however, evacuated it today, when the council announced that accommodations had been found in the coroner's court and in two large storehouses.

NINE STOREY N. Y. BUILDING COMES DOWN

Broadway at 52nd Street Scene of Great Confusion in Afternoon

ONE DEAD; 6 UNACCOUNTED

Fortunately Main Ruin Fell on Side Street And Not on Crowded Thoroughfare

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Broadway at Fifty-Second street was sudednly transformed late this afternoon from a scene of bustling activity to one of desolate wreckage when a nine storey apartment house under repair collapsed, burying several persons beneath the debris.

At least one person is believed to have been killed and six others are unaccounted for.

Broadway was crowded with shoppers, workers hurrying to their homes and afternoon theatre-goers, when a terrific crash rent the air and the building toppled over into the street. Fortunately the bulk of the debris fell into Fifty-Second street, which was comparatively free from vehicular traffic and pedestrian traffic, although tons of wreckage slid into Broadway itself.

Six persons, three of them buried in the wreckage, and later rescued, were injured. Seachers expressed fear tonight that other pedestrians seen passing the building may have been caught beneath the tons of wreckage, covering the sidewalk in places to a depth of six feet.

Smaller crashes occurred at intervals tonight as sections of the wall remained standing after the first collapse, gave way. Other tottering sections threatened the lives of firemen and policemen who searched the ruins for bodies in the glare of powerful searchlights which played on the scene.

Only the ground floor was occupied, an automobile concern having its office there. The injured persons were mainly employees of this concern and workmen employed in repairing the building. Three girls in the automobile establishment were buried beneath the wreckage, but were rescued suffering only from cuts and bruises.

S. B. WOODS, K. C. LECTURES ON THE NEAR EAST

Clear And Convincing Address is Given by Edmonton Lawyer on European Situation

Few more interesting lectures have been given before the Philosophical Society of the University of Alberta than that delivered last night by Mr. Sydney B. Wods, K.C., on "Europe and the Near East Since the Treaty of Versailles." It was a fascinating subject though a difficult one to deal with in the space of an hour or so. But Mr. Woods gave such a clear and convincing exposition of the state of affairs in these war-stricken parts of Europe that few can have come away without a far more accurate knowledge than they had before of the problems of the Balkan States and of Russian and Poland and Georgia.

In speaking of former attempts at forming leagues for the preservation of peace Mr. Woods mentioned that Mr. H. G. Wells had lately pointed out that a very similar attempt had been made to put down war forever in China as long ago as 550 years before the Christian era, and that the essentials of the compact then entered into between the three rival powers in Northern and Southern China were almost identical with those of the two projects framed at Versailles, the one in 1815 and the other last year.

Some Changes on the Map

Speaking of the new nations, Mr. Woods remarked that the Finns had broken away from Russia and their independence had been recognized by Great Britain and the United States in May 1919, prior to the Treaty. Poland, another new nation had occupied a prominent place on the world's stage until its dismemberment during the closing years of the 18th century. Two of the others, the Jugo-Savs and Czecho-Slavenes, resulted from the break-up of the ancient Empire of the Hapsburgs, as a direct result of the recent war. The new near Eastern nations, the Azerbaijanians, the eorgians and the Armenians resulted from the defeat of the Ottoman Empire; while the creation of a government in Palestine under the protectorate of Great Britain, the attempt to give substance to a re-created Arab state to the east of the new Syria (now under French control) and the granting of virtual autonomy to Egypt all emphasize the far-reaching effect of the idea of nationalistic aspirations.

As was to be expected, the year following the conclusion of the treaties of peace has been one of incessant disturbance in Europe; some of the disturbances achieving the status of wars between the various nations. The peace treaties left several important boundary questions to be solved by means of plebiscites and commissions thereafter to be formed, but insomuch as the European country with the most extensive frontier line—namely Russia—was not a party to these treaties it is not at all surprising that some of the countries concerned should seek to anticipate a favorable fixation of their boundaries by attempting to take physical possession of as much territory as possible in advance of the decision with regard to the boundaries between them and Russia. This was particularly the case with Poland, who sought to occupy the territory to the south bordering on the Ukraine and lying to the east of the Carpathian Mountains. This action of Poland brought about a strengthening of the Bolshevik regime to such an extent that armies have been put in the field by Russia which for a time threatened to overrun Poland and occupy Warsaw. The genius of Marshal Pilsudski and the success of his counter-attack in September saved this humiliating situation and resulted in a peace being entered into at Riga in October which for the time being has brought to a conclusion the hostilities between these nations. The peace that has been made, however, has left much to be desired if judged by te standard laid down by President Wilson's fourteen points. Territories vast in extent have been included within the Polish frontiers to which that country can lay no claim on either technical or strategical grounds, and it is too much to expect that we have heard the last of this matter. Indeed the general impression seems to be that the chief reason actuating the Soviet government to make peace with Poland was the desire to concentrate their forces against the growing power of General Wrangel in Southern Russia. This they have done, with results that must have far outstripped their most sanguine expectations. How unstable the sentiment between Russia and Poland is can be judged from the fact that the treaty between them—on which the ink is scarcely dry—recognizes the existence of the government of White Russia or the Ukraine, plenipotentiaries of White Russia taking part in the making of it.

Poland and Lithuania

The Poles also sought to occupy a portion of the Repuolic of Lithuania including Vilna, and for several months there was war between these two peoples, until both parties were prevailed upon to accept the arbitrament of a commission of the League of Nations. The Reublic of Lithuania has been carved out of Russia; the Lithuanians have declared their independence, which, however, has not been officially recognized.

The Adriatic Problem

The dispute between Jugo-Slavia and Italy over the possession of the seaports on the Adriatic—notably Fiume—for a time threatened to overturn the entire labors of the conference of Versailles. Fiume is essentially an Italian city, though the hinterland to both it and Triests is populated mostly by Slavs. The provisions of the peace treaty with Austria-Hungary, while making no final provisions upon the matter, certainly looked to this city being attached to the new Slavic state as its principal Adriatic seaport. An Italian patriot, Gabriel d'Annunzio, took armed possession of it and for several months defied the powers to carry out the provisions of the treaty, and while it is true tat he received no support from the Italian government, it is also true that there has been a very large and growing body of Italian opinion that has looked very coldly upon the attempts to make the peace treaties workable in other respects because of what they regarded as the sacrifice of Italian interests by Great Britain and France. The problem presented therefore by d'Annunzio was, for a time, full of possibilities of trouble. The recent treaty between Italy and Jugo-Slavia whereby Fiume becomes a free city under the protectorate of the League of Nations has come as a welcome relief to a very strained situation. By this treaty also Italy gives up her position of control over Albania, keeping only certain islands in the Adriatic, thus putting an end to the intermittent warfare that has been carried on between the Albanians and the Italians ever since the peace treaties. This solution of the Italian-Slavic dispute has at least one element of permanency to recommend it. The Jugo-Savs are assured access to the Adriatic.

N. Y. POLICE TAKE STUMP ON OWN DEFENCE

90 Captains Handle "Ready-Made" Talks to Clubs And Crowds at Large

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—New York's police department at present subjected to attacks by several newspapers which almost daily print the city's lengthy roster of crimes, plans to combat its critites with "copper tongued oratory." Ninety police captains today were ordered to make speeches on the work of the force at all club meetings, assemblies and public soirees in their districts.

A pamphlet of ready-made "talks" will be issued each captain who will also carry on his oratorical excursions, a copy of the police commissioner's report. This is supposed to contain puncture proof retaliations to be used on hecklers who want to insinuate that the police were in any way derelict in their duty.

Commisioner Enright's order, it was stated, followed his receipt of a letter from Mayor Hylan urging that the public be told about the department's activities in connection with the alleged crime wave.

Mayor Hylan's theory is that alarming stories of robbery are being "uncovered," by burglary insurance concerns in search of new policy holders.

ALL THE MINISTERS RETURNED SAFELY

Premier Oliver Heads Poll in Victoria, Mrs. Ralph Smith in Vancouver—Farmers Secure One Seat Other Independents Five—With 47 Seats Total, Contral of Assembly is Close For Cabinet

VANCOUVER, Dec. 2—At 12.30 a.m., 23 Liberals, 13 Conservatives and 7 Independents appear to have been elected in the province, with three seats, Cranbrook, Grand Forks and The Islands, very close with a number of outlying polls to report.

VANCOUVER, Dec. 1.—(By Canadian Pres)—With returns still incomplete in many of the ridings, the standing of the parties in today's provincial elections stood at 10.20 tonight: 18 Liberals, 9 Conservatives, 2 Independents, 2 Labor, 1 Socialist and 1 Farmer.

With but half the vote counted in Vancouver, the Liberals appear to have five seats and the Conservatives one. Mrs. Ralph Smith is leading the poll, while W. J. Bowser, leader of the Conservatives, seems certain to be elected. He is the only one of his ticket in this city who seems certain of election although Lt.-Col Warden, Conservative is battling hard with Hon. W. J. Deb Farris, attorney-general, for a place. Local Liberals who will probably be elected in addition to Mrs. Smith in Vancouver are Captain Ian Mackenzie, M. A. Macdonald, K.C. and Alderman James Ramsey. Three Liberals and one Conservative have been returned in Victoria, Premier Oliver heading the poll in the capital with 6.474; Canon Hinchcliffe, Conservative with 5,284 ran second; Hon. John Hart, minister of finance, polled 4 887 and Clearihue, Liberal, polled 4,305.

Ministers Likely Elected

VANCOUVER, Dec. 1.—Returns indicate the re-election of the cabinet ministers, but returns from Cranbrooks, where Hon. Dr. King, minister of works, is opposed by Thomas Cavin, Conservative, few returns have been received but Dr. King was leading in the town of Cranbrook by a small majority.

In Prince Rupert, Hon. J. D. Pattullo, minister of lands is leading and will probably be elected.

The Attorney-General, Mr. Farris, is fighting to retain his seat in Vancouver. Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture leads in Chilliwack. Dr. Sutherland, Liberal, was elected by acclamation in Revelstoke. Major Burde, Independent is leading in Alberni.

It is expected that belated returns will change the final results in one of the ridings.

The vote in Vancouver—Six polls out of 12, stands: Mrs. Ralph Smith, Liberal 5561; Mackenzie, Liberal 4334; Macdonald, Liberal 4009; Farris, Liberal 3968; Ramsey, Liberal 3660; Dougherty, Liberal 3358; Bowser, 3327; Warden 2835.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 1.—There are 47 seats in the legislature to be filled by today's elections. When the house dissolved the Oliver government had a majority of 29. It is believed that the government will have a majority when final returns are in, of about 15.

LIVERY BARN AT WESTLOCK BURNS WITH $6,000 LOSS

Blaze Starts When Many Residents Are in Attendance at Movie Show

Four horses were burned to death, and about $6 000 worth of livery barn property was destroyed by the fire which burned to the ground Alex. Marshall's barn at Westlock, A garage adjoining the burning building was saved by the volunteer brigade, which kept it well soaked with water.

Two horses in the burning barn were saved by plucky efforts of men who rushed into the building after it was a mass of smoke and flames, but who found it utterly impossible to save the other four suffering animals. Alex Marshall suffered the loss of three fine steeds and a man named Weiners lost the fourth one. Harness, wagons, democrats, were destroyed in the fire besides the cash drawer and $150 in it.

The heat from the burning barn was intense, and cracked the glass in the windows on the opposite side of the street, and the flames leaping to the mail carrier's stable and barn nearby, completely destroyed those buildings. The Sheppard hotel also caught fire, but was saved by the persistent efforts of the fire fighters.

The fire was discovered in Marshall's barn about 9:30, and at that time he was in the movie show. Word was carried to him there, and the whole theatre full of pleasure-seekers turned fire fighters, but as far as the Marshall building was concerned, the efforts were unavailing. the flames having gained too much headway. Their efforts kept other nearby buildings from burning and, it is believed, saved the town from being wiped out.

The cause of the fire is not definitely known, but it is thought that some one endeavoring to light a heater, used gasoline, which caused an explosion.

Neither the barn nor its contents were insured, and the total loss is estimated at over $6 000.

Mr. Marshall, the owner of the barn, is making arrangements for lumber, and will build again on the old site.

Provincial Police

In the A. P. P. court Wednesday, W. K. Armstrong, suing Edward Sheldom for wages to the amaunt of $262.20, was awarded his claim in full.

Alex. Fidoruk, who was found guilty on the charge of impersonating a police officer, was allowed out on suspended sentence.

JAS. LOWE, GRAND PRAIRIE PIONEER, TAKEN BY DEATH

Went Into District by Wagon Over Virgin Prairie Trail in 1911

One of th pioneers of Grande Prairie passed away last week in the person of James Lowe. The settlement is only in its infancy, but its earliest members are disappearing.

Jack Lowe, the rugged, hardy figure, so familiar in all circles on the Prairie, was laid at rest last Monday.

Mr. Lowe was born at Huntley, Aberdeenshire, Scotland in 1853. He came to America in 1866 with his mother and father and settled in Minnesota, where they remained until 1879. They then moved on west to the Red River valley in North Dakota where carried on extensive farming operations for 15 years. He and his family then came to Canada and resided at Stettler until 1911 when they went to Grand Prairie. The Scottish characters of industry, pluck and enterprise, which have been so largely developed in the natives of that land, found a very fertile field in this instance. Mr. Lowe brought himself and family into a position of comfort, and he was able to leave them with two sections of land well tilled and stocked in the famous part of Grande Prairie known as Scenic Heights.

The advancement of the district and the change in the age is seen in the fact that whereas Mr. Lowe came to the pioneer district in a wagon over virgin trails, the funeral procession from Scenic Heights to Grande Prairie—a distance of 28 miles—consisted entirely of automobiles.

The large attendance at the funeral was an expression of the esteem of neighbors and friends for Mr. Lowe and family, and the large part he took in social, business and political affairs.

In these days of so many scattered families it is a fine tribute to the cordiality that existed in the Lowe family and the advantage that they saw would be reaped by all if they worked together at home.

The following children are at home: John G., William M., James G., Margaret, George, Nettie, Alexander and Jean, while Nellie (Mrs. Anderson) is only a few miles distant near Lake Saskatoon.

W. C. MacARTHUR WILL RUN FOR ALDERMAN

W. C. MacArthur has announced his intention of running for alderman for the city. He has been endorsed by the Citizens' Progressive League.

RAIN AT GRANDE PRAIRIE

Reports from Grande Prairie are to the effect that the mild weather prevalent in Edmonton earlier in the week also existed in the north. There was rain on Manday and it was not followed by cold weather. There have been slight falls of snow but no severe weather up to the present time.

Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

TELLS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME.

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noices caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double Strength.) Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.

LOST FAITH IN CITY COUNCIL SAYS SPEERS

Duggan, The "Mayor For 1921" Heard to Advantage by Large Friendly Crowd

TRIBUTE TO ALD. KINNEY

Long Term Bond Arrangement Difficult to Get, Says Duggan

Residents in the vicinity of the McDougall school on Wednesday night turned out in goodly numbers to hear the various municipal candidates and school trustee candidates state their platform and elucidate the planks which they proposed putting into the same.

The speakers in order named included Trustee William Rea, H. B. Speers, Ald. A. R. McLennan, Trustee S. A. G. Barnes, Hyman King, Dr. Wm. Alexander. D. M. Duggan and J. T. J Collinson. Other speakers from Westmount school were scheduled to address the meeting but after it had been dragged out half an hour for their arrival, the meeting was adjourned following Mr. Collinson's address.

Trustee William Rea referred to the idea of Mr. Crang of helping financially high school students, intending to teaching, as ridiculous in the present state of the city's finances. There would be at least a thousand students looking for this help and it could not be contemplated.

H. B. Speers, aldermanic candidate, thought that there was not a woman in the city, who, during the past year, had not lost a heel from her shoe owing to the rotten condition of the city's sidewalks. While the $20,000 asked for in the by-law to amend the city's sidewalks was an item of expenditure really needed, the fact that the request of the council was turned down was sufficient and convincing evidence that all faith in the present administration had been lost.

Ald. A. R. McLennan stated that in the past two years $80.000 in all had been spent by the board of public works, in sewers for the use of the packing plants, Westmount, Norwood Boulevard paving, cindering of walks and other necessary expenditures impossible to avoid. He regretted that the labor party were trying to run a straight labor ticket, and did not think it good for the city council to be dominated by any one faction.

For a Clean Police Force

Hyman King, aldermanic candidate, stated that he had always stood for a clean police administration, and had succeeded, with the help of others in making it clean in years past. He stood by Clarke in 1918, but had split from the labor party because he found that this year he had to pay $30 more taxes than other years, and he thought it was high time that the tax assessments had come down instead of jumping. He knew of $30,000 lots that the city had confiscated, and although the mayor and various aldermen had on several occasions been in New York and other large eastern cities, they had done little to encourage large manufactures to locate here.

Hides were sold for three cents a pound here and shoes shipped back from the east of the same hides, cost $15 to $18 per pair. The statement had been made by a certain alderman that if he, Hyman King, got on the council, the city hall steps would be stolen. Mr. King assured the audience that the said alderman was right in this respect, as the alderman had already stolen everything but the steps.

The Mayor for 1921

D. M. Duggan, mayoralty candidate, arriving as the meeting was well under way, was introduced by the chairman, Robt. Bryans, as the Mayor for 1921. Mr. Duggan thanked him for his prophetic introduction to the audience, stating that as the chairman had been good enough to think so that he would not contradict it.

Mr. Duggan had no apology to offer for coming out for mayor. He was of the opinion, as were many others in the city, that experience as a business man, and determination to deal fairly with all classes of citizens would prove sufficient qualities to qualify him for the position. Primarily, a restoration of confidence was needed among the citizens. This confidence had been greatly shattered by previous administrations. It had come to pass where either the burgesses would be moved of the administration had to be moved and he thought it a far easier method of the knotty problem to remove the administration.

Tribute to Ald. Kinney

"No section of the community can bring about the success to which Edmonton is entitled," stated Mr. Duggan, who also expressed regret that Alderman Kinney had resigned from the council. In voicing his regret, Mr. Duggan said: "If we are fortunate enough to get labor candidates like Mr. Kinney and are represented by as sane a man, I will be quite satisfied."

Mr. Duggan then commented on the fallacy of electioneering promises of mighty things that were quite evident could not be fulfilled in the city's present financial state. It should be the aim of all citizens to own a home of their own, as this was an inspiration to the best citizenship. The day was rapidly approaching when the acquisition of Alberta's natural resources would be of immense benefit to the province and especially to this city.

The speaker stated that Mr. McKay Dicksons proposal for a long time extension of the city's bonds could call for no serious criticism, but it was a policy very difficult of fulfilment since it would be necessary to get the consent of many bondholders outside of the province and this was a herculean task. It was a policy, however, that was worthy of due consideration.

Mr. Duggan then closed his remarks by an exhortation to those present to interest as many persons as possible in exercising their vote and take a citizen's interest in the municipal elections. This was their solemn duty in the present tragic state of affairs.

S. A. G. Barnes in advocating the candidature of Dr. Crang, stated he had come out in the doctor's defence because of misleading statements that were being circulated at the various election meetings regarding the chairman of the school board which he thought needed someone to refute.

Trustee Barnes advised the assembly gathered that they would go a long way before they found a man who would give them as fair and square a deal as Dr. Crang would give. In regard to the alleged extravagant expenditure of the board he stated that one little school house in Forest Heights had been the only school built this year. It was Dr. Crang who had introduced the double shift for the school teachers in the interests of economy. He did not endorse everything of Dr. Crang's and had many differences of opinion with that official, but in fairness to the chairman. it was Dr. Crang's proposal that the government would contribute money to help the high school teacher students in their course, not the citizens.

The speaker further pointed out that in B. C. 70 per cent of the educational costs were borne by the province which was an immense relief. The technical school here should be supported by the Alberta government in the same manner that obtains in Calgary.

Hon. Geo. P. Smith had been given whole credit for the sale of Alberta's school lands, when a large measure was due to the indefatigable efforts of the Edmonton school board for years to have this brought about.

Dr. Alexander Was Teacher

Dr. William Alexander school board candidate, stated he had 21 years' experience as a school teacher and this should be some qualification to act on the board. He was a thorough going democrat who drew no distinction between men who worked with their hands and those who used their heads. He was not a demagogue who would promise everything in order to be elected, but would rather remain a free man, with a clean conscience than obtain election on promises which he knew were impossible of fulfilment.

The Street Railway Burden

Aldermanic Candidate J. T. J. Collinson reiterated his claims of the previous meetings, calling attention to the fact that the street railway was the black sheep of the city's utilities and that $144,000 in donations and grants by this city, in its present state was too great a burden.

ABLE ADDRESS ON POULTRY BREEDING BY MRS. S. J. SPRATT

In an address before the members of the Edmonton Poultry club in the council chambers Tuesday night, Mrs. C. J. Spratt, a prominent poultry breeder, outlined the large scope that poultry breeding offered to the woman who wanted to do a certain amount of outdoor work along with her housework. Poultry raising is not only interesting but profitable, she said, and the only drawback in this country is the extremely cold weather. It is rather uncomfortable to feed and care for chickens when the thremometer is down below zero, she remarked.

Other speakers were Mrs. Holman and Joe Shackleton.

In order to be successful in the poultry business, Mrs. Spratt said, one must be something of a carpenter or at least handy with tools and be able to build a chicken coop. She said that in her experience she had found that one is continually changing their plans and building new coops or remodeling old ones.

Mrs. Holman in telling of her five years' experience in poultry raising during the past five years told how she started out with a few birds and how she gradually increased the size of her flock until at the present time she was in the poultry business in a fairly large way.

"There is money in the poultry business," she said, "and lots of it," and in her experience she had yet to see the day she did not have eggs for her own use.

Patience with Details

To be successful, she said, one must have an unlimited amount of patience and give close attention to details. Chickens should be fed every day at the same hours, and cleanliness must be observed in everything. The drop boards, she said, should be cleaned every day, new straw should be provided at least once a week and the walls should be sprayed at regular intervals.

Even if hens don't lay all the time they should always have the same attention because in order to get the best results in the spring they must be well fed and cared for during the winter months.

Joe Shackleton, manager of the provincial poultry plant, gave an address on the disqualifications of show birds, pointing out the various defects that must be looked for.

ALLEGED THIEF AND BOND JUMPER HELD FOR EXTRADITION

Clarence Coleman Taken at Peace River by Provincial Police

Clarence Coleman, wanted in Lake City, Michigan, for grand larceny and bond jumping, has been arrested by the Alberta Provincial police at Peace River, and is now being brought to this city to await escort to the United States, as a result of information sworn by William H. Brown, sheriff of Missaukee County, Lake City, Michigan, U. S. A.

A wire received from Peace River by local headquarters of the Alberta Provincial police here November 30th stated that Clarence Coleman had been arrested and was in custody and that he would be brought to Edmonton, arriving here December 4th.

In the first place accused was found to be residing at Fort Vermilion and whether or not he was arrested at Fort Vermilion or at Peace River is not known to local Edmonton police authorities. When the presence in the north country of the accused became known it was stated that a gasolene launch would be required to bring him to police headquarters at Peace River. Just how Coleman was finally brought south is not disclosed in local information, but the Provincial Police put it over just the same.

William Clark Boyle, the boy serving twelve months at Fort Saskatchewan, and who escaped from the provincial jail several days ago, has been caught and is now back within the confines of the prison, according to information given out by police authorities Wednesday morning.

OIL MEN FEEL SOME DOUBT ON POLICY

Decision of Federal Government to Restrict May Retard Enterprise

The decision of the federal goverment to set aside half the extent of the acreage staked by oil prospectors as published by the Bulletin Tuesday, has created a great deal of comment among oil men in this city.

While practically all agreed the government has done the right thing by declaring one hundred per cent of the oil territory should be preserved as crown lands, they ask the question as to whether or not the government is going to pay its share in the development of the northern oil fields.

Their point of argument is that the federal government in taking half of the leases filed upon by all applicants should share some of the expense of the development of the field. "Why should we go to the expense of making the journey north, of prospecting the field, of ascertaining its value and then say to the government, that half of what we have is yours", is the argument put up by oil promoters who have claims in the northern Alberta fields at this time.

One oil operator suggested Wednesday morning that if the government of the dominion is to become a shareholder with the man who is making claim for oil leases that the government in carring out its part of the agreement should stand for some of the expense in the construction of, say, a pipe line from Fort Norman that will bring the oil products of the field to the point of available transportation.

The report in The Morning Bulletin regarding the government proposal of taking a share of the leases has caused considerable comment.

NOT ON THE VOTERS' LIST

A large number of farmers and other property owners who reside outside the city limits, but who are taxpayers in the city have been left off the Voters' List. In order to vote they are advised by Duggan's committee, in an advertisement in another column, that it is necessary for them to apply to the City Assessor for authority to exercise their franchise.

United Cigar Stores Of Canada, Limited Purchase "Smoke Shops"

An important business transaction was put through Wednesday in Edmonton by which the United Cigar Stores of Canada, limited, purchased and open this morning the "Smoke Shops Limited," of which number one is located at 9978 Jasper Avenue, and number two in the Allen theatre block. Mr. Waldman and Mr. Saber will remain in charge until further notice.

Mr. L. W. Fraser, Toronto, acted for the purchasers. He left last night for Calgary and Vancouver, where it is proposed to open other stores in the near future.

The United Cigar Stores of Canada, Limited, contrary to general opinion, is a Canadian company whose name really originated in Canada, and it is good to relate, followed the most successful yet hard earned position in the retail tobacco business of Canada, a company that never yet opened a store in direct opposition to a local dealer by way of location, yet has successfully operated 170 stores in Ontario and Quebec and now intends to connect up the western division of Canada with eastern operations.

It is encouraging to know a friendly organization which has co-operated with the retail dealers of Canada to maintain themselves in business and not to abstain them from business, is to be represented here. That has been the policy of the United Cigar Stores of Canada, one under which every man who ever entered the employ of the United Cigar Stores of Canada, not the Service or the United Cigar Stores of America, has been trained.

It must be remembered that this company is a company managed entirely by Canadians, or those of British birth, and that the name has been contended for in the Exchequer Court of Canada. It was discovered in the contest that the name was owned in Canada before the inception of the American company.

Emery, Newell, Ford and Lindsay were solicitors for the United Cigar Stores in the transaction.

LUCAS OF CAYLEY WINS SWEEPSTAKES IN OATS EXHIBIT

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(Canadian Press)—J. B. Lucas, of Cayley, Alberta, won the sweepstakes grand championship for oats at the International livestock and grain show here.

THOSE NASTY LITTLE PIMPLES
That Come On The Face
Are Caused By Bad Blood.

Many an otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by the unsightly pimples and various other skin troubles, caused wholly by bad blood.

Many a cheek and brow cast in the mould of beauty have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost, and the possessor of the "pimply face" rendered unhappy for years.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted as well as pain and regret to their friends.

There is an effectual remedy for these facial defects and that is Burdock Blood Bitters, the old reliable medicine that has been on the market for over 40 years.

It drives out all the impurities from the blood, and leaves the complexion clear and healthy.

Mrs. James Williams, Waterford, Ont., writes:—"My face was covered with pimples for nearly a year. I used different kinds of remedies to get rid of them and finally thought there was no relief. A friend dropped in one day and told me I should try Burdock Blood Bitters. I did so and used three bottles, and found the pimples were all disappearing from my face, and now I have a clear complexion again."

B. B. B. is manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

CONSERVATIVES SLOW IN GIVING BACK RESOURCES

Policy Advocated in 1905 and Promises of 1911 Never Taken Effect

"The Journal would have us believe that it has been the policy and desire of the Conservative party to have the natural resources turned over to the west," said Hon. J. R. Boyle Wednesday morning when referring to an argument in the other local evening paper Tuesday night that the Conservative party in Alberta in 1905 had opposed the autonomy terms because of the resources clause, "but in spite of the definite promise of Sir Robert Borden prior to his election that these resources would be restored if he were returned to power, he held office from 1911 to 1919 and nothing whatever was done to carry out his promise. If it was the policy of the Conservative party to have the western provinces given their resources they surely have had ample time to carry the policy into effect during the years they have been in office at Ottawa."

The Daily Poem

SAILING ACROSS THE SEA

On painted ocean a painted ship
Is hung on the homestead wall;
To the mother's eyes, and the mother's heart,
The holiest thing of all.

For a lad with a tangle of golden hair,
The light of her eyes was he,
In that gallant vessel a year ago
Went sailing across the sea.

On a painted ocean a painted ship
Is hid in the darkened room;
For a shadow stole from a southern sea,
And shrouded the house in gloom.

So they hid from the mother the missing ship
And hoped that the best might be;
Ere they told the tale that all hands were lost
While sailing across the sea.

O'er the summer ocean a white-winged ship
Is floating across the foam;
And the castaway that they found at sea,
Is almost in sight of home.

Then a head with a tangle of golden hair
Is bowed on a mother's knee,
And a message from heaven to earth today
Comes sailing across the sea.

On Tuesday evening a 'Hard Times' dance at St. Luke's Hall, Highland Park, brought together a large and jolly crowd of hard cases. Sackcloth was popular and fashionable, and considerable ingenuity was shown in many of the costumes evolved from this material. Jewellery was strictly taboo, but in spite of that, detectives prowling around inspecting discovered quite a number who had forgotten or disobeyed the rule. These were promptly arrested, hauled before the justice, and fined according to their deserts, amid much fun and laughter. Mrs. J. Iukster and Mr. Bert Taylor acted as judges of the costumes, and ultimately the rizes for the best exponents of hard times were awarded to Mrs Pepper, Mrs. Holden, Mrs. Frost, and Mrs. Stevens. Several others were highly commended, including Mrs. Diamond as "Huckleberry Finn," and Mrs. Steele as an old-time lady. Mr. Bert Hough supplied the music for the dancing, which was carried on with great spirit and enjoyment. The ladies of the Social Club committee extended the idea of the evening to the refreshments, and served "hard times" fare, consisting of dry biscuits, cheese and coffee. The whole evening was one of the happiest and most successful gatherings that has ever taken place under the auspices of St. Luke's Social Club.

The bride, who looked charming in taupe satin, with a stylish hat of brown plush, was given away by her brother, Mr. Earl Robins. Miss Emily Robins, sister of the bride, attended her as bridesmaid, and the best man was Mr. Wellington Robins, also a brother. JOHN H. BERNS, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who says his wonderful restoration to health since taking Tanlac has astonished all his friends, has gained twenty pounds.

"My friends are all astonished over my wonderful restoration to health since taking Tanlac," said John H. Berns, of 308 East Front St., Cincinnatti, Ohio, recently.

"I don't know what it is, but there is something about Tanlac that certainly does the work," he said, "and I firmly believe if it hadn't been for this medicine I wouldn't be here now. It completely restored my health and I have gained twenty pounds besides. I have a splendid appetite now, and can eat anthing I want without being troubled in the least afterwards.

"Before taking Tanlac my health was dreadfully rundown. My main trouble was indigestion, and I suffered misery night and day. I never seemed hungry, and the little I ate upset my stomach. I was nervous and couldn't get a good night's sleep. I lost thirty-four pounds and was going down hill rapidly. It seemed like the more medicine I took the worse I got.

"But since taking Tanlac I am like a brand-new man. I sleep like a farm hand all night and feel just fine all day. In fact, I'm a perfectly well man once more. Tanlac certainly beats anything I ever saw in my life."

Tanlac is sold in Edmonton by the Owl Drug Co. Ltd., and all other leading druggists throughout the country.

CARPENTERS AND JOINERS ARE NOT TO CO-OPERATE

Toronto Men Will Make Demand for Increased Wages for Next Summer

Toronto, Dec. 1—Carpenters and joiners in the city are not going to comply with the request of contractors and master builders to co-operate with them in stabilizing prices in order to stimulate building next year. On the contrary, the men are formulating a demand for increased wages. The present scale is 90 cents per hour, although it is claimed that many carpenters are actually receiving more this year. They are now going to make a demand for a minimum rate of $1 10 per hour to become effective with the opening of the new year.

The matter is being submitted to a vote of each local union in the city and the officials declare that over 90 per cent of the members are in favor of making a demand for the new rate.

There is great rejoicing in the fact that science has at last invented the world's surest death trap for germs—Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture. With the first dose this remedy gets right down to business, and never ceases in its destructive work until every trace of the disease is completely removed and the victim restored to normal health. Letters from all parts of Canada praising this wonderful mixture are literally pouring into headquarters. Read this letter:—"Years of suffering from that terrible affliction, bronchial asthma, ordered by all medical men to close my business in Montreal and go south to a warmer climate, but I noticed your ad. in the "Montreal Standard" for the above mixture and I said I would give one more trial to health before I leave my native town, and thank the good maker I did. My bronchial tubes are clear, the hacking cough has disappeared, the wheezing cough has ceased as if by magic, and all discomforts have gone since taking your wonderful mixture."—Herbert Corri, 417 McKay Street, Montreal. A Quick Relief for Headache
A headache is frequently caused by badly digested food; the gases and acids resulting therefrom are absorbed by the blood which in turn irritates the nerves and causes painful symptoms called headache, neuralgia, rheumatism, etc. 15 to 30 drops of Mother Seigel's Syrup will correct faulty digestion and afford relief. 8

November 15th is the last day that letters for the Lieutenant-Governor's Competition will be received. Letters must be addressed to Uncle Tom, and must have the name age, and address of the writer.

—UNCLE TOM,

UNCLE TOM'S LETTER

Dear Boys and Girls,—How are the "collections" getting on? Members, who are collecting spools, please see what pretty things you can make with them, and let me know? Stamp-collectors, what countries do your stamps represent, and what particular stamps are you looking for? Label and firm names and crest collectors, please write and tell me what you have done, and how many you have.

Will every member who writes this week please send in a suggestion for the next competition?

I suppose everyone is getting ready for Christmas, and so is busy just now, but I hope you will not forget Uncle Tom, but steal a few minutes to write him.

Diaries for the December competition begin tomorrow. I hope you aren't forgetting.—Uncle Tom.

And bathe them every day,
And when I feel I'm weary
I run outdoors to play.

WITH THE CANADIANS

Queen Marie of Rumania has written Mde. Pantazzi, founder of the Canadian Nursing Mission to Rumania, and intimated that her second daughter has expressed a desire to work with the Canadian Nursing Mission. Her Majesty hopes that her daughter's example will serve as an incentive to other educated girls in Rumania and induce them to train as nurses.

WHAT TELLS

It isn't the vict'ry that counts, boys;
It's the way you put up the fight.
It isn't the path that you go, boys,
As long as you travel it right.

It isn't the goal at the top, boys,
That counts when the journey is through;
But the fellows you've helped on the road, boys,
That tells in the balance for you.

FIFTH TROOP BOY SCOUTS

After physical drill and games, the ambulance and signalling classes will continue their work and before being dismissed a competition will be discussed, this to take place before the New Year.

PUT-OFF TOWN

"Did you ever go to Put-off Town?
Where the houses are old and tumble-down;
And everything tarries and everything drags,
With dirty streets and people in rags.
"Grandmother Growl lives in this town;
With her two little daughters, called Fret and Frown;
And old man Lazy lives all alone,
Around the corner of Street Postpone.
"To play all day in Tarry street,
Leaving your errands for other feet,
to stop or shirk or linger or frown,
Is the nearest way to Put-Off Town."

Our Nature League

Today we have four new members for Our Nature League. Quite a few of the members have promised Nature stories, and I am waiting for them still. I should like to have them for next day.—Uncle Tom.

THE SAILOR CRAB

I wonder if you have ever heard of the sailor crab?

He is quite a tiny little fellow; in fact, only about an inch in length, but he makes up for his lack of inches by beauty of coloring. His shell is a pretty yellow.

Now I must tell you how he got his name. This little crab goes for long voyages on the backs of big turtles. You see, the turtle sometimes comes into shallow water to feed, and pushes his way through a floating mass of seaweed. It is then that the sailor crab comes aboard, ready to go on a long journey. Some of the seaweed lodges on the turtle's back, too, so that when heavy seas are running the little traveller has something he can hold on tightly, for otherwise he would be swept right away.

Some Nests.

One day last summer I was looking for horses, and I found an owl's nest and a duck's nest, not a foot apart, in a badger brush. The owl's nest was made of grass and feathers, and the duck's nest was too. The owl's nest had three eggs and three young owls and the duck's nest had eight eggs. The owl's eggs were round and white, and the duck's eggs were bluish green. It was too far from home to go to see them often.—Elmer Olson.

The Weasel

The weasel is a small animal which in summer is brown and in winter all white, except the tip of the tail which is black.

It is called "Nature's Acrobat" as it climbs trees and turns somersaults so as to amuse its prey until it gets within reach, when it makes a spring, grabs it by the neck and sucks the blood. It eats mice and kills poultry. When it is pursued it takes long leaps until out of sight, then it hides behind a tree and watches.

To catch weasels, find a hollow log they have gone through, as you will see by their tracks in the snow. Set the traps at either end of the log and place bait in the log. Then the next time the weasel comes along he is yours.

Find where weasels travel under overhanging logs or bushes. Hang a piece of squirrel or rabbit about 18 inches from the ground, and set your trap under the bait.—Gordon G. Willie.

Stony Plain.

Trapping Weasels

Last winter, when we went to look at the traps we had a weasel alive in one. I was going to take hold of the trap, but the weasel bit me on the thumb. Then my brother took another trap and set it near the weasel, and it got caught in that one too. Then we stood near until we thought it was dead. But it wasn't.

I put it in my pocket and went to the other traps. When we had walked a distance I felt the weasel moving in my pocket. So my brother took it out and threw it on the ground, and it was going to run away, when I took it up and put it in a trap that was close by. Then when the weasel was dead we went home.—Ellen Thors, Ravine.

But did you think, Ellen, how much that poor animal must have suffered all that time? Couldn't you have killed him the first time with a blow on the head? Don't you think when we have to kill any animal, the least we can do is to do it as rapidly and painlessly as possible? I know sometimes we forget in the excitement of the moment and feel sorry afterwards.—Uncle Tom.

The Lost Cat.

Once we had a cat that was caught in a weasel trap. She was away three days, and we didn't know where she was.

Then one day we went to the trap and found her. She had pulled the trap to a tree and had dug a hole in the snow. The leg that was caught in the trap started to rot and we had to kill her.—Lillian Thors, Ravine.

Uncle Tom's Mail Bag

Was Pleased With Prize

Dear Uncle Tom.—I was very much surprised when your letter came with the prize money in it for me as I didn't think of getting a prize for my specimens. I shall try in the next competition.

A friend of ours shot a real American eagle the other day, which is was just in the act of taking one of his tame geese. The eagle measured seven feet from tip to tip of the wings. He was getting his Christmas dinner early, wasn't he Uncle Tom.?

I gave a little kitten to a friend of ours who had a dog. The dog wanted to be friends with the kitten, in the worst way, but kitty wouldn't have nothing to do with him. She would spit and scratched out com She would spit and scratch him every chance she got, until one day the dog was stretched out comfortably by the stove, enjoying a nap, when kitty came along. She sat looking at the dog for a long time, then decided to go and cuddle up to him. Now they are the best of friends.

Uncle Tom will you please send me a Weed book? There are a great nuumber of weeds here in the summer time, and I would like to know their names. There is one, especially, that looks like two electric bulbs turned upside down. There are just two flowers on each fine, fine stem. It grows on a fine stalk, which grows in patches on little hills. The color of the flowers is a very pale pink. The leaves are small, flat, and a shiny dark green. Can you tell me the name of this flower, Uncle Tom?

The Club is growing up quite big and interesting. You must have a lot of letters to read when there are so many members. Now, Good Bye.—Frances C. de la Cluyse.

Boyle, November 21, 1920.

I was so glad to get your letter Frances and to know that you were well again. I have asked the department of agriculture to send you a weed book. I am not sure of the weed you mention. It might be the Twin Flower, if it grows in the woods, is a sort of vine, with leaves almost round and set opposite each other on the stem. You could see the picture of this flower in Mr. McCalla's book on western flowers, if it were in your school library. The librarian tells me it hasn't gone to your school yet, though they have been sending it out lately. He says it may go after Christmas so you could be on the watch. Could you tell me anything more about it, and I'll try again?

What a pretty story about the kitten and the dog. I shall watch for your diary, Frances.—Uncle Tom.

A Basket Social

Dear Uncle Tom.—We had a basket social in the school today. The girls made the baskets, and the boys bought them. They didn't go any higher than fifty cents. Uncle Tom, how long do I have to wait till I get another badge? I have lost mine.—Kathleen Nelson.

Meeting Creek, November 1920.

You must have had a fine entertainment. What do you do with the funds? Members must wait a month to see if the lost badges turn up, if not, then get another. I have put your name on the Lost Badges List.—Uncle Tom.

Sister Has Been Sick

Dear Uncle Tom.—I am in grade 2 at school, but my teacher is sick. My sister Ruby was sick but she is well again. My mother has been dead four years on November 10. Dad has Slough aVlley Post Office, so I shall write every month. I wish some of the members would write to me. I am nine years old.—Genneth Lillian Woods.

Slough Valley, via Rochester, Oct. 28, 1920.

Welcome to our Club, Genneth. Why not write Dorothy Crandall, Lacombe, who has lost her father just a short time ago, and is very lonely, too.—Uncle Tom.

• • •

Likes the Health Chores

Dear Uncle Tom.How are you? I was glad to get my badge and am trying to obey the rules. Andrew Guilbault has just written you a story and letter. He says he is going to win the silver medal. I have a little niece who is only a week old. School will last until December 23rd. How many members are there in Tofield? I like the health chores very much. I am trying to get others to join.—W. Edward Corbett.

Flat Lake, November 10, 1920.

Do you do the health chores regularly, Edward? Why didn't you try for the medal too? I couldn't tell you just how many Tofield members we have without looking up the files, Edward. I know Arthur Patterson, Betsy Ness, James and Mary Easton, and Archie Armour, write from there but there are others too. What do you call your new niece? Say, does she ever cry?—Uncle Tom.

Skates at School

Dear Uncle Tom.—I liek to read Uncle Tom's Corner very much. I have two dogs at home, named Eddy and Sharlie. Charlie is a year old, but Eddy only half that age. I have a little cat called Blacky, who is very funny and knows many tricks.

I go to school and am in grade 4. We have a new school, but it is not finished. The carpenters are painting it. There is ice by the school, and we take our skates and go on the ice. It is lots of fun to skate. I wish all the members could go on the ice and have a good time like we are having. I hope, Uncle Tom, you will send me a badge.—Mildred Pasemko.

Skaro, Nov. 11, 1920.

What lovely weather for skating, too, Mildred. I am sure many of the members wish they were as lucky as you. I hope you received your badge safely.—Uncle Tom.

At Viking School

Dear Uncle Tom.—We have been so busy at school that we haven't had a chance to write. Thanks very much for sending the plants we sent you to the University. They sent us the names of all of them.

Our school fair was very successful and we won a great many prizes. We won first prize on the best conveyance, first on the weeds, first on the seeds and second on the plants. We also won the diploma.

There are twelve pupils going to our school now. It is too cold for some to come. We live almost four miles from school, and we may not be able to go every day. I am in grade 4, and there are three others in my class. Last Tuesday a nurse came to the school and examined us. I am ten years old, and have one sister and one brother. My sister is seven and my brother is two.

Uncle Tom you sent Kathleen Bender a badge, and if you have one to spare I would like one too. It is half past three and Lester has gone for the horse, so I must close.—Vera Alexander.

Viking, Nov. 12, 1920.

I was wondering what had become of you, Vera, and Aunt Polly often asked me if I had heard anything of how you came out in the school fair. I sent you a badge, when I sent Kathleen's, but am sending another, and hope you get this one safely. I am so glad you won so many prizes. I am always glad to help any of the members, and coax every one else to help them too.—Uncle Tom.

• • •

Saving Spools

Dear Uncle Tom.—Thank you for the names of the weeds. I am going to school now, and am in grade 4. I am saving spools now. I am eight years old. We have arithmetic, spelling and reading at school, and many other studies. There is a boy named Bud Lawes who is going to write you soon. He is a wonderful speller, and GET GAL TWO Uncle tom take 2 gets a star every day. I must close now for it is nearly eight o'clock, and the nurse said I must be in bed by that time. We should grow up well and strong for the nurse gave us lots of health rules on a piece of paper, and you are giving us some in The Corner.—Kathleen Bender.

Viking, Nov. 12, 1920.

I dare say both sets of rules are about the same, only said in different ways, aren't they, Kathleen? But you see there are many little boys anod girls who aren't fortunate enough to have the nurse at school, and they have to depend on The Corner. Sometimes it is easier to remember the rules when they rhyme. I shall be glad to get a letter from Bud.—Uncle Tom.

• • •

Dear Uncle Tom.—How is Aunt Polly getting along? I hope she is fine. We have had some snow here, but not very much. We have lots of fun at school, while we have snow, for we can play Fox and Geese. Would some one please send me the words of Snow Deer, and the Village Band? I close with some riddles.—Burga Brandle.

Vegreville, Nov. 12, 1920.

Watch for your riddles in "Is Your Riddle here?" Buga Aunt Polly says "Thanks, she is quite well, but busy getting ready for Christmas." How do you play Fox and Geese?—Uncle Tom.

• • •

Bought a New Car

Dear Uncle Tom.—I am going to school every day and am in grade 6. We take skates to school and skate on the ice. Our school is limestone Lake, S.D., No. 412. We have a new car, a McLaughlin. We paid $2,100 for it. I have a nice sleigh for the winter, and a hound, whose name is Edy. He hunts coyotes.—Joe Pasemko.

Skaro, Nov. 12, 1920.

I hope you have your badge by this time, Joe. You will have fine fun with your sleigh when a little more snow falls, but then, the skating won't be so good. Which do you like best?—Uncle Tom.

• • •

Ernie Came Back

Dear Uncle Tom.—I like my badge very much and I send you many thanks for it. You will be glad to hear that our cat Ernie came back this fall. He had grown very much larger, and was quite fat. I hope your Goliath has returned also. We thought Ernie would never turn up, so we got a kitten. She is a lively little thing and we call her Frisky.

Do you know, Uncle Tom, that the railway is made right through to St. Paul? There is to be a station not far from Owlseye Lake. We hear it is to be called Duffin. Don't you think that is strange? Why shouldn't it be called Owlseye? Kind regards to Aunt Polly and yourself.—Valentine Wolfe.

Owlseye Lake, Nov. 14, 1920.

It is rather hard to say just why the railway companies give the names they do, Valentine, and it certainly would seem more sensible to call the station by the old name of the place. No, Goliath never returned. I am afraid he met a sad fate. Aunt Polly says thanks.—Uncle Tom.

• • •

Got Reward

Dear Uncle Tom.—I was out with father looking for our lost cattle but we didn't get them. We were out to Bufford, Dnipro and Thorsby. My brother found Mr. McDougall's cattle and got a reward of ten dollars. I have four brothers and one sister. One brother is at Radway Centre carpentering.—John Hayduk.

Gildehurst, Nov. 15, 1920.

I hope that you have found your cattle by this time, John. Your brother was very luck, wasn't he?—Uncle Tom.

• • •

Getting Over Mumps

Dear Uncle Tom.—I am just getting over mumps and I wish I could go out side. I think I can go to school next week. I wish some one would write to me. I am nine years old, and in grade 3. I go to King George school, which is only a mile away.—Willie Mullen.

Box 409, Leduc, Nov. 16, 1920.

You have had a very painful time, I know, Willie, and I am glad you are well again. Just write yourself to any of the members who ask for correspondents. I am sure they will answer.—Uncle Tom.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges The urine gets cloudy full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts si made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

MANY RETURNED MEN IN CITY OUT OF EMPLOYMENT

Great War Veterans' Bureau Reports Many Men Out of Work Here

One hundred and twenty seven returned men in Edmonton were unemployed yesterday; two hundred will be unemployed today. Such is the information given out by the labor bureau of the Great War Veterans' Association, officials of which declare the situation at this time to be very acute.

Unemployment is piling up in this city daily and conditions promise to become worse. Post discharge pay such as is provided by the Canadian Patriotic Fund is not sufficient to meet the immediate situation. Officials of the labor bureau of the Great War Veterans' Association realise the acuteness of the situation.

Unless sick or in other ways wholly incapacitated many returned men are left without any means of sustenance. There is no federal emergency grant to meet the requirements of the hour.

As a result of prevailing conditions a wire was dispatched to Secretary McNeil, of the G.W.V.A., yesterday, which outlined the seriousness of recent conditions, with the hope that action may be taken by the G.W.V.A. to bring about some form of remedy.

Meighen's Promise

It is pointed out by the local branch of the G.W.V.A. that men must be wholly incapacitated before any assistance is given them from the federal government. During the visit of Premier Meighen to this city a few weeks ago, the seriousness of the situation was pointed out. At that time the premier promised to give the matter every consideration and also added that he himself would send along a personal cheque. No word has been received from the Premier since.

Cases of Distress

Investigation made by the G.W.V.A. in Edmonton Tuesday, revealed many cases of distress in this city. One case under review was that of a Belgian who had served in the ranks of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. This man, who had three children to support, was incapacitated as a result of his service overseas. He had lost his home as a result of a fire and also had lost his army papers. He was accordingly left without any recognition on the part of the government; and for the past three days has been living on bread and water. His family had suffered under similar circumstances.

Another man, who had given almost the maximum of service overseas, was found to be suffering under adverse circumstances as a result of a quarantine which had been placed on his home as a result of small-pox. His case is now being investigated by the Great War Veterans' Association.

Then comes duchesse satin, georgette crepe and silk nets in peach, apricot, gold, American beauty, maize, jade, nile, sky, flesh, white and black.

There are charming, graceful frocks with soft side draperies, or draped softly from the shoulders; others with short scalloped tunics or silk or accordeon pleated ruffles, while other scintilating frocks exploit beaded tunic over satin underslips. There are the sleeveless models, as well as the draped shoulder and very short sleeve styles.

ANNOUNCING A NEW SERVICE

THE GIFT SECRETARY

A Happy Solution of the Gift Problem

HAVE you ever wanted to give a gift to a friend or relative, but did not know just what would please most?

Or, have you ever wanted to give a specific object, but did not know the exact size, color, material or quality?

Perhaps shyness or a sense of delicacy forbade the asking of questions directly.

To bridge this chasm between giver and recipient, we have established this new service. Our Gift Secretary acts as a tactful mediator who finds from the prospective recipient the preferences from which a choice can be made. This is accomplished without violation of good taste, and without invasion of the sanctity of gift-giving.

This is a confidentail Service in which the inquirer's identity remains unknown to all but the Gift Secretary.

The purpose of this Service is to make possible the avoidance of misfit gifts, and to perform a delicate office gift-givers themselves may feel unwarranted in assuming. Even sizes, colors, styles, materials and price ranges can be ascertained.

The Service is available to all without cost.

Just bring or send to the gift secretary's chimney corner on the second floor, the names and addresses of friends or relatives you wish to remember. An explanatory letter and information blank will be mailed the prospective recipients.

In a few days the gift secretary will endeavor to have the answers.

THE GIFT SECRETARY'S "CHIMNEY CORNER" IS LOCATED ON THE SECOND FLOOR, OPPOSITE THE STAIRWAY.

The School Board

Education of the young is one of the chief responsibilities of organized society. Education costs money and the money must be spent. But money spent on education must be wisely spent, and with due regard to the sources from which it is derived. Money unwisely spent in the name of education is spent not on education but on waste. Excessive taxation dries up the sources of revenue just as surely if for purposes of education as for any other purpose.

One fourth of Edmonton's tax levy of 1920 is for school purposes. The figures are: Public schools, $1,050,000; Separate schools, $100,000; total schools levy $1,150,000. Total city tax levy $4,537,000.

In discussing civic expenditure account must be taken of the demands of the school board. The school boards, public and separate, are elected by the people, as are the members of the city council. The school boards have independent control of all school affairs, but levy no taxes. The tax levy for school purposes is included in the general levy for the city. The school boards decide what amount of money they want and make formal demand on the council, which must meet the demand. The rate for public schools is levied on public school supporters only, and that for separate schools on separate school supporters.

Less than ten per cent of the total school levy is called for by the needs of the separate schools. A comparison of their demands for several years past indicates careful financial management with due regard to the natural increase of school population. The separate school levy of 1915 was $88,000. That of 1920 is $100,000.

A comparison of the yearly demands of the public school board does not lead to the like conclusion. Their demands have been as follows:

1915	$ 695,000
1916	650,000
1917	660,000
1918	715,000
1919	760,000
1920	1,050,000

The comparatively gradual increase from 1916 to 1919 was followed by a jump from $760,000 in 1919 to $1,050,000 in 1920; an increase in the one year of $290,000, as compared with an increase of $65,000 in the four years from 1915 to 1919. The reason given for the increase in tax levy by the school board candidates is that the teachers' salaries were increased. There are 362 teachers in the employ of the school board at the present time. This includes public, high and technical schools. The salaries of 1919 amounted to $422,771. The estimate of salaries for 1920 amount to $618,107. This increase of salaries accounts for $200,000 of the total increase but leaves $90,000, or about one third of the total, to be accounted for increased expenditures other than those for teachers' salaries. It is to be noted that there are 28 more teachers in the employ this year than last. The salaries of teachers were increased and their numbers were increased and still the school board spent $90,000 more than both increases amounted to. The debenture interest and sinking fund payments were the same as last year, so that the increase was in the strictly controllable expenditure.

All the signs point to further increases in the controllable expenditures of the school board if Candidates Craug, Heron and Williams are elected.

"Plugging" the Test Well.

A few days ago a geologist was credited with the opinion that the Imperial Oil company has been holding back information as to the reality and the importance of the recent oil "strike" at Fort Norman. Apparently, if the company has been trying to do anything of the kind it has not succeeded. Very clearly Ottawa has heard about the find, and considers it something worth while. So much worth while that special regulations have been passed to deal with the question of the future development of oil prospects and the production of oil in Canada. As the north-land is the only part of Canada where oil has been recently found, or where there is any prospecting activity, the assumption is that the new regulations have been drawn up with a special view to affecting the exploitation of the oil resources in that part of the Dominion. In any case that will be the effect.

One of these regulations imposes a royalty upon oil produced from a well. The other cuts down the area of an oil claim that may be staked from three sections to a half-section.

That these twin-regulations will affect the development of the northern oil resources is not open to doubt. Neither is the way in which they will affect it. Both are restrictive in character. The one cuts down to one-sixth what has previously been the inducement offered to enterprising parties to prospect for oil. The other penalizes the party who "brings in" a well. If between them they do not put a check upon the activity of the prospecting and drilling companies in the north-land it is difficult to see what, other than absolute prohibition, could bring that about.

Oil is more important today than gold. Its importance in the industrial world is unlimited. As without it the modern battleship, the submarine, and the airplane cannot operate, an oil supply is the basis of national security. The possession of an oil field of great known extent is the objective of the nations. As matters stand Mexico and Mesopotamia are the only adequate sources of supply open to the British fleet should the United States close or be obliged to keep its product at home. Mexico is under a foreign flag, and Mesopotamia will likely have to be held against the "Reds" at the cost of a bloody war.

Economically and nationally, the discovery and development of a great oil field in Canada is the largest opportunity that confronts the people of this country. There is every prospect of a field of that character being found in the North-land. It might be assumed that a national Government concerned either in making Canada prosperous or in establishing the foundations of the Empire would lend aid to the exploration of this great area for so much-wanted a treasure, and to the development of the field once it has been located. At least it might be supposed that nothing would be done that would either discourage efforts to find out if such deposits exist or to utilize them when found. Our present Government, so far from assisting or encouraging prospecting and devolpment, does not even stand neutral and allow individual and corporate enterprise to carry on without hindrances. It steps in first to discount the prize held out to the prospector, and next to impose a tax upon whoever opens a producing well. In effect it proclaims that searching the North-land for oil is something to be discouraged, and that to actually produce oil is an offence punishable by taxation.

The only assumption, supposing Ottawa to have not altogether parted with common sense, is that it is hoped to thus squeeze revenue out of those who risk their money and time in exploiting the North for oil; more revenue than would otherwise accrue to the national treasury. But it is one thing to impose a tax for revenue purposes upon a business that has been brought to the dividend basis, and quite another thing to impose a penalty upon pioneers who are trying out the possibility of establishing a business. In one case the public gain without danger of throttling private enterprise. In the other case private enterprise is throttled, and the treasury loses what it would otherwise gain.

The Government in these regulations is treating the oil business as though a great field had already been located in the North and brought into profitable development. As a matter of fact it is fifteen hundred miles from the nearest railway point to the well at Fort Norman. That well, however large its yield, would be a gift that nobody could afford to accept, for the reason that its product is not marketable. If in the course of time a great deposit is located such as warrants the investment, the means of getting the oil to the world market will be created. But there are a good many things to be done before that happens, and they will cost money by the barrel. Every lessening of the inducement to the oil prospector, and every penalty imposed upon the successful prospector, is in those circumstances simply a blow struck at the process of testing and developing the oil resources of the North-land, and therefore a blow at the wealth-production of the Dominion and the stability of the Empire that must have oil if it is to continue.

Winners Among the Best.

Alberta hay, grain and live stock has been taking a very creditable share of the prizes at the Chicago show. It is a show where taking a prize means something. The best that the continent produces is in competition there, and this continent produces as good as any other in all three classes of products.

The Way of the Wizard.

The net result of Ponzi's get-rich-quick scheme is that he is to spend five years in jail without pay. As a "wizard" he has been very much over-estimated. All that he was able to discover was a new road to the last place he wanted to go. The really clever man is the one who can make an honest living and has sense enough to be content with doing it.

Not Wanted Just Now.

An artisan, mechanic, or laborer, skilled or unskilled, cannot hereafter enter Canada unless he can show the immigration authorities at the frontier that he has $250 in real money besides transportation to his destination. Hitherto the cash qualification has been $50. The increase will be a real bar, as it is intended to be, against an influx of men without means. Regrettable as it is, Canada is not in position to offer asylum to an unlimited number of people who must find immediate and continuous employment or became a public charge. Until business picks up the "no admission" sign will have to hang on the door for immigrants without means.

U. S. Casualty Figures.

The final figures show that the United States lost in the war 34,249 men killed, while 224,089 were wounded. Trifling as the number killed is in comparison with the losses of the French and British, it is in itself a terrible death-list. That it is not longer was only because the enemy gave in. Great as the material assistance rendered by the United States was, its greatest contribution to the Allied cause was in potential staying power. Germany could not hope to use up the man power of the Republic after destroying that of its other opponents. To the fact that its reserves were so immense our neighbor owes the fact that its losses were not heavier.

A Penalty On Ownership.

The city, it appears from the discussion, is getting something like one per cent. rental on property it has leased. People who own their own property are forced to pay the city four and a half per cent. taxes for the privilege of living or doing business in it. If the thing were practicable it would be obvious sense for the property-owners to let the city take their property, and then rent it at three and a half per cent. less than it now costs them to pay taxes on it.

If anything of the kind occurred the city would of course "go broke" forth-with. But the effect is in kind the same when the process is a gradual one as if it were a sudden occurrence. Until it pays to own property in the city the number of property-owners cannot be expected to largely increase; and at present it certainly does not pay. That change can only be brought about by cutting down the penalty that the city imposes upon the ownership of property.

Another Place for Economy.

Very properly, school board affairs are getting more attention than common during the present municipal campaign. They certainly need it. Whatever may be said of the garrulous extravagance of the city council it has had a worthy rival in the school board. In fact the chairman of the school board has been more outspoken than anyone at the city hall in declaring for wilder expenditure, and the policy of the board majority has been in keeping with his definition of its ideals. There has been no effort at economy in any direction to off-set the increase of salaries that in fairness had to be given to the teachers. And there is neither promise nor suggestion that if the retiring members of the board are elected there will not be a further speeding up of the spending pace. As the school board can spend what it pleases and pass the bill on to the council for payment, the election of a council with sane ideas on the subject of economy would do nothing to stop waste in that department. It is as necessary to fill the school board vacancies with men who hold a serious view of their responsibilities to the taxpayers as it is to elect such men to the mayoral chair and the aldermanic seats.

Legal Inquiries

Legal questions will be answered in the columns of The Bulletin, after being submitted to The Bulletin's own legal representative. Write on one side of the paper only. Be brief. Send stamped and addressed envelope if private reply is desired. Name and address (which will not be published) must accompany all inquiries.

To The Bulletin Legal Dept.: A sold his farm to B with only an agreement of sale and part payment down. B sends this agreement to the Registry Office to have same filed against A's title, but received word back that agreements of sale are not a registerable article. A has left the Province and may not be back until the balance is due, when according to the agreement the land will be deeded over to B. What is B to do, so as to stop A from selling his land to another party?—A. N.

B can file a caveat in the Land Titles Office so as to prevent A from dealing with the land

To The Bulletin Legal Dept.:

My husband died two years ago and I finished the homestead duties and got the patent in my name. Can any debts of my late husband be filed against my homestead. He owed for machinery and the company got them back and they threaten a claim against the homestead for the loss they say to have.—M.A.

We do not think the machinery company could have any claim against your homestead so long as you are in the use and occupation of it, and so long as it is necessary for the maintenance of yourself and your children.

To The Bulletin Legal Dept.: Three sisters, married women, hold a transfer (Torrens title) for a quarter section of land willed to them by father. Said land was C.P.R. bought over 25 years ago at $3 an acre. Wish to sell above at $20. Said land is fenced has always been pastured, none broke. Now have I to pay increment tax? What are the conditions under which increment tax does not have to be paid?—E.B.

Yes, we think you will have to pay some increment tax. No increment tax is paid on a transfer when there is no increase in the value of the lands sold over and above the last transfer or when the land is not valued above a certain figure.

To The Bulletin Legal Dept.: (1) What protection does filing a caveat give to a person. (2) Can a person file a caveat against the land of another for debt; (3) What steps are generally taken to secure payment of a debt from one living at a distance after judgment has been given; (4) When is a promissory note outlawed in Alberta?—J.V.R.

(1) So long as a caveat remains in force no instrument purporting to affect the land covered by the caveat can be registered unless it is subject to the caveat. (2) The Land Titles Act mentions certain cases under which a caveat may be filed and a mere debt is not one. (3) If the judgment debtor lives in the Province an execution can be issued to the Sheriff of the judicial district in which he resides, or a garnishee summons may be issued upon some bank or some creditor of the judgment debtor. If the judgment debtor lives outside of the Province it will be necessary to sue him again in the place where he lives. (4) Six years after the last payment on account of proper acknowledgment. (b) Twelve years.

ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Bulletin to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the questioner. This information is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith. Address your enquiries to Terchus, Editorial Dept., The Bulletin, Edmonton.

Is the information correct that the Battle of Waterloo was fought on a Sunday?

Yes, June 18th, 1815.

I would be glad if you will give me a definition of meerschaum, the stuff they make the pipes from.

It is a white or yellow white earthy mineral, found in beds in Asia Minor, Greece and other places. It is a silicate of magnesium, allied with water.

When was Guy's Hospital founded in London?

Guy's was founded by Thomas Guy in 1725, and is one of the most important institutions of its kind. It has an income from endowments of over sixty-five thousand pounds; but its expenses are vastly beyond that, and the hospital relies largely on voluntary subscriptions for its work.

Kindly advise me through your question column if there is a taxidermist in Edmonton, also how many young a female muskrat has to a litter.

Wolfe & Hine, 10164 102nd street, are taxidermist. Muskrats usually have a large number of young, from five to ten.

Please tell me through your column if there was an act passed in the Alberta legislature in 1916 to appoint a board of public utility commissioners to set aside certain sub-divisions and turn it back into farm lands at farm land prices?

Yes.

Will you kindly answer the following questions: (1) A sells B his farm. B is to pay all taxes. B fails to do so, and the farm is sold for taxes. Does this make the contract null and void? (2) Where can I find out the date of a soldier's discharge?

(1) No. You can recover on the covenant.

(2) By writing to the Department of Militia at Ottawa.

Please give me a brief history of General Jan Christian Smuts, of South Africa.

General Smuts is a prominent lawyer and general and was born in 1870. He was state attorney at the Cape in 1898, and in the Boer war held supreme command in Cape Colony. In General Botha's ministry he has been minister of finance and colonial secretary. He succeeded General Smith Dorrien in command of the British forces in German East Africa. He was made a member of the British War Cabinet in 1917.

THANKS TO MINISTERS

Editor,

The Bulletin, Sir:—In your issue of the 26th inst., there was a letter from "a few humble followers" in appreciation of the services recently held by the down town churches.

I heartily subscribe to the spirit of thankfulness contained in the first paragraph.

In the second paragraph your correspondent states very plainly "that the only way a man can be saved is by the way of service." This statement is altogether unscriptural. There is a subtle temptation in these days to belittle, if not to do away with the mediatorial work of our Lord. One of the corner stones of the Christian faith is the Atonement. (At-one-ment). We are saved by believing in what Christ has done and is, and by what we are and do. In Titus 3-5 we read, "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us." It is in the Blood of Christ, the life outpoured, that we find the basis of our Christian hope and confidence. It has been said that there is a "scarlet line" running through the scriptures from the lamb of Abel, Gen 4.4 to the Lamb of God, Rev 5.6, and its importance in the Divine plan is emphasized in the Bible over 400 times. The way of service follows.

Yours,
W. C. DEANE.

WARNING TO BURGESSES

Editor,

The Bulletin, Sir:—An inspection of the Voters' Lists show that a large number of those who are known to me to be property owners have been wilfully or inadvertently omitted from the burgesses. It is clearly the duty of all burgesses to make positively certain that they have not been wholly or practically deprived of their franchise rights. They could do so by calling at the committee rooms, 10419 Jasper avenue and if necessary can thereupon apply to the Assessor for authority to vote on the bylaws. This is most imperative and should be attended to without an hour's delay.

THOS. BELLAMY.

JOSEPH'S COAT OF MANY TURNS

Editor The Bulletin:

Sir,—The mayor's coat has been turned many times, and if it ever had any design, but opportunist and humbug, it must have lost it long ago.

Joseph's coat was turned in the O.B.U. Joseph advised them to strike when the striking seemed good for Joseph and the coat which must then have been a coat of mail or matalass defied anyone to tread on its tail, but the coat turned and the tail came off.

Joseph's coat turned in the Gas Company's efforts to obtain a franchise, it presented a bold front for the Gas Company, the Gas got cut off and Joseph's coat got turned again.

Joseph's coat turned inside out and round about on the Exhibition association. Joseph's coat of armour denounced the Exhibition and all its belongings, the Exhibition must stop altogether; then the breath of peaceful tranquility blew through Joseph's coat, and now the arms of this coat are wrapped around the neck of Manager Stark, and roses strewn on the path of this exhibition association, velvety soft are the carpets upon which Manager Stark now treads to the zenith of his $10,000 per year.

Joseph's coat has changed to the storekeepers and those that jump counters for a living. Joseph's coat told them to go to, when they asked him for longer hours and more sales, but now an election is near and Joseph's coat says "come unto me all ye that want longer hours on Saturdays and Wednesdays, and I will give you night and day, oh ye of little faith did you not know my coat could turn and turn again, seventy times seven must you forgive me, if the scriptures are to be fulfilled and the pledges I gave to every one who felt like a pledge, wet or dry.

There was once a Joseph's coat of many colors, but this coat has designs of many varied patterns, and can turn with any wind that blows. Of what good is a coat that cannot turn to a man like Joheph.

Yours truly,
VEXATION.

Facts Regarding the Natural Gas By-Law

1—The Gas Fields Are Developed And The Company is Ready Now to Supply Gas

The consumption of natural gas in Edmonton will not at present exceed an average of twelve million cubic feet per day and the peak load will not exceed twenty-five million feet per day. The wells now completed have a capacity of fifty to sixty million cubic feet per day. Other cities, depending on one gas field have had gas shortages, but Edmonton has two fields now proven and will be assured of continuous supply.

2—The Company Agrees to Construct Pipe Lines Immediately

The Company agrees to commence work on pipe lines within 60 days, after the City grants it permission to lay its pipes and to complete the work within one year. If the pipe lines are under construction but not fully completed at the end of the year, the Council of the City may extend the time for the period necessary to complete, but not longer than another year. The construction of a work costing four millions in one year is a big undertaking and two years is not a long limit.

3—Consumers of Natural Gas Will be Charged Fair Prices

The prices to be charged for natural gas to consumers are to be fixed by the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners so as to yield the Company a reasonably fair return on the cost of its pipe lines and for the natural gas it supplies from its fields. In addition to this a maximum price is fixed so that in any event consumers cannot be charged more than 38½ cents plus 10 cents for distribution per thousand cubic feet. Your gas cannot cost more and the Utilities Commission may fix much lower prices. The Cities of Chatham, Windsor, Sarnia, Petrolea, Brantford and Moncton are all paying 50 cents per thousand and over for natural gas, the prices in these cities having been increased during the past two years. The Cities of Montreal, Toronto, London and Victoria are paying from $1.00 to $1.50 for gas manufactured from coal or petroleum. Edmonton is the only large City which has no gas and is offered gas at less than other cities are paying.

4—The City Pays no Part of The Cost And Does Not Assume Any Liabilities

The Company agrees to pay the cost of carrying the gas to the consumer without any assistance, financial or otherwise from the City. It also agrees to supply meters free. There is no minimum charge and consumers only pay for the gas they actually use. If the utility is operated at a loss the City does not bear any part of the loss. The Company must repair the streets and pay for any damage it does. The Company pays the cost of this election. The City is not put to any expense whatever. There will be no frontage tax.

5—Property Owners And Taxpayers

The Company has not asked for exemption from the payment of taxes or for a special fixed assessment. The Company will construct in the City a plant costing a large amount of money. This plant will be assessed the same as any other property. Its construction will increase the total assessment and will in that way decrease the tax rate and the amount of taxes to be paid by each property holder and the tax payers in the City. This will be the only public utility in the City paying taxes. The installation of a gas plant will increase the value of property in the City.

6—Advantages to Labor

The installation of natural gas will cost approximately four million dollars. About half of this will be for labor, hauling, etc. This expenditure will commence within 60 days after the agreement with the City is signed. It will be completed within a year or at most two years. Wages are to be paid in accordance with the fair wage schedule. The clause respecting wages has been drawn by a representative of labor on the Council. Residents of Edmonton are to be given preference. The next year threatens to be a period of unemployment and reduction of wages. The expenditure of this money is a remedy.

The above are the main facts and the advantages of having natural gas. No one opposing natural gas has pointed out any disadvantages or any injury it will do. What Edmonton wants is boosters, not knockers. Men who will build up the City and not drive away industries by knocking. Knockers will find SMALL points about the gas agreement to knock, as no agreement is absolutely perfect—but read the agreement for yourself. Consider the whole agreement and all its advantages and the main features which are—

(1) The Company has the gas. (2) They agree to supply it within a reasonable time. (3) The price is fair. (4) It will help the City and all the citizens. (5) It will improve living conditions and (6) It has no disadvantages.

GREAT DECLINE IN CUSTOMS DUTIES FOR TORONTO PORT

Toronto, Nov. 30—If merchants are losing money in the decline of commodities price, they are in no worse position than the Dominion of Canada itself, as may be seen by the falling of $677,087 in customs duties for the port of Toronto in November, 1920 as compared with November 1919 and the drop of $617,392 in the present month alone as compared with October 1920.

New York Stocks

New York, Dec. 1—The stock market encountered more liquidation on closing out speculative holdings today, but losses were largely relieved with many net gains in the final dealings. Sales totalled approximately 1,000,000 shares.

New York, Dec. 1—Heaviness of Mexican oils and strength of European issues of the same class were the striking features at the uncertain opening of today's stock market. There was further selling of coppers, also minor rails, with New Haven at a new low price for the current movement. Shippings eased froctionally with steels, equipments, textiles, leathers and food shares, but Chicago pneumatic tool recently under severe pressure, rose 1⅝ points. Exchange on London showed no alteration from yesterday's final quotations.

The market turned heavy within the first hour, when selling of recent vulnerable issues in the steel equipment, metal and various special groups was resumed. Vanadium and Replogie steels, Baldwin locomotive, Utah and Chile coppers and American woolen lost 1 to 2 points. Southern Pacific was the only representtive rail to react, but secondary issues, especially St. Paul common and preferred, Missouri Pacific, Kansas City Southern, St. Louis and South Western, Erie first preferred and New Irjeans, Texas and Mexico fell 1 to 2 points. Oils and chemicals also reacted. There were heavy offerings of liberty bonds at recessions of fractions to almost one point. Call money opened at 7 per cent. as against the recent initial rate of six per cent.

Losses were generally increased at midday, investment rails showing extreme declines of 1 to 3 points, with speculative issues. Southern Pacific was among the weakest stocks, heavy selling following the announcement that the company's segregation plan will be announced later in the day.

Led by shippings, steels and equipments, in which actual gains of 1 to 5 points were made, the entire list rallied vigorously later. The closing was firm.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Times square, the heart of the theatrical district, was thrown into confusion about one o'clock today, when a film roof fire broke out in the quarters of a motion picture concern in the Longacre building.

A studio room with contents valued at $25,000, was destroyed by the fire, which made rapid headway. Prompt action by the fire department saved further damage, confining the flames to one part of the building and the blaze soon was brought under control.

BROMPTON MILLS CLOSE PLANT FOR THE WINTER.

QUEBEC, Dec. 1.—The Brompton Pulp and Lumber company of Brompton, Que, will close down for the winter. Three hundred men will be without work. The reason biven by the firms officials for closing is the necessity of extensive repairs to the plant.

NOV. CUSTOMS RECEIPTS LOWER THAN FOR NOV. 1919

OTTAWA, Dec. 1,—(Canadian Press)—Customs receipts for the month of November 1920 show a decrease as compared with November, 1919, og approximately $2,950,000, but with the inland revenue returns for the month there is a net increase of $4,697,620, customs and inland revenue collections for last month as against November, 1919.

The increase in collections fro war excise (luxuries tax, manufacturers tax and sales tax) last month was $8,136,076 as compared with November of last year. For the month of November, 1920, the total collections from customs and inland revenue were $26,490,731 as against a tital of $21,793,131 in November, 1919.

Total collections for the eight months ending November 30, 1920, were $209,571,075.72 as against $152,093,473.79, an increase in the revenue of $57,477,601.93.

FURTHER IMPROVEMENT IN VICTORY BONDS TOLD

TORONTO, Dec. 1.—Further marked improvement in the price of Victory bonds was seen on todays trading, an advance being registered in all issues with one exception, and trading reached a new high of over $800,000. It was a long time since the Toronto exchange had such a day in activity.

Already there is talk of further seats being purchased on the Exchange by bond houses, who desire to participate in the heavy business now recorded. A feature of the day was the selling of bonds from Montreal and their quick absorption in Toronto.

It was again the turn of the 1934 bonds to lead the market, and another slight gain was recorded the close at 91¼ being an advance of ¼c. The other taxable bond, the 1924, made the most pronounced advance, being 1⅝ higher at 94⅝. Most of the active lists on the local exchange were weaker. Atlantic Sugar was subjected to further pressure and closed two points down at 21½. Weakness of Brazilian was again evident, the loss being ⅝.

Spanish River, was the strong point among the papers, going almost two points to 84¼. Brompton was 2 points off and Abitibi ½ a point.

WALL STREET RESUMES INTERNAL SECURITIES

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The practice of international dealings in securities under joint account arbitrage arrangements suspended by the stock exchange in 1913, was revived here today. The only difference between the practice as revivd and that the 1913 is that dealings in the London, and Amsterdam exchanges will be conducted direct from brokerage houses instead of on the floor of the stock exchange.

Rules in London restrict such trading to actual cash transactions, thus preventing profits by short transactions.

PROBE INTO CHARGES WILL BE SEARCHING

BIG FOUR WILL INVESTIGATE CHARGES; EVERY PLAYER AND MANAGER TO BE QUESTIONED

President And Vice-President Will Conduct Enquiry—Players to be Examined And Club Managers Required to Make Declaration of Manner of Conducting Clubs—Club Books to be Produced

While expressing the utmost confidence in the integrity of its players, the Big Four hockey league at its meeting here today to discuss the "clean-up or declare" ultimatum of the A. A. U., passed resolutions calling for the closest of investigations. President McC[illegible] of Calgary and Vice President Morris of Edmonton will be the chief investigators. They were instructed to appoint two disinterested fans to assist them. Every player in the league will be called before these committees and put through a rigid examination. Their statements will be taken down in writing and signed and declared by the players before a commissioner. Together with this, club managers and club officials will be called upon to submit their books, minutes of meetings and any written communications with players or others dealing with hockey, and make declarations as to the manner in which their club is operated. Also an effort will be made to secure the books of the various clubs in the league last year. The whole result will be embodied in a report to be submitted to the A.A.U. as soon as completed.

League Confident of Result

The meeting went on record emphatically that they would make every effort to assist the A. A. U. in its efforts to maintain clean and honest sport. Throughout the meeting there was plenty of evidence that the officials and club representative felt confident that the league would come through the trouble with flying colors and that the result of the investigation would show that the conditions which are alleged to exist have been grossly exaggerated if they do exist. Over and above all discussion was the unanimous opinion that no matter what the outcome, the league would continue to supply the same high class hockey as last year.

The morning session was devoted largely to a discussion of the evidence placed before the A.A.U. by Frank Patrick. While admitting that Patrick made serious charges and at first sight appeared to have grounds for them, most of the representatives were firm in the belief that he has enlarged on the little that he has to make it look mountainous. Monday's admissions do not appear to incriminate any player other than himself.

In the afternoon session the resolution calling for a complete investigation was passed and shortly after four o'clock the meeting adjourned. Those present at the meeting were President McChw, Vice-President Morris, Earl Wolfe, representing the Dominions, and Chas. Kemp, representing Kennie McKenzie, who is absent from the city. The Calgary delegates were Dr. Maxwell and Eddie Poulin.

Advices from Calgary last night were that Secretary Battrum and the governors in that city were much pleased with the attitude taken by the league.

LATEST METHOD OF FRAMING UP TO WIN FIGHT

A new and startling method of a prize fighter to "jinx" his opponent, has been revealed by Harry Habakoff, St. Louis lightweight. Habakoff has offered the following explanation of the good showing "Kid" Bandy made against him in a fight a year ago: "I was drugged," said Habakoff. "Some south siders did it, and it wasn't anything they put in my tea, either. I didn't realize what it was until several days after the fight, when one of the birds in on the lay told me. It wasn't any use kicking then and this is the first time I have spilled the beans. Before the fight one of the south side friends of Bandy bought two pounds of limburger and had Bandy's seconds, wearing gas masks, give Bandy a rub-down with the cheese. Bandy didn't take his bath robe off until the bell rang, then he ran at me, got me in an awful clinch, and held me until I lost my breath and my knees sagged. I didn't remember much after that, but they tell me I fought instinctively and lasted the eight rounds."

BUREAU DEVOTED TO BETTERING OF HORSE BREEDING

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 1.—Establishment of a bureau to be devoted to improvement of horse breeding was discussed at a conference here yesterday between the state racing commission and representatives of the four big Maryland tracks. The creation of a $100,000 fund derivable from the various racing associations was suggested for the maintenance of such a bureau.

A committee was appointed to consider the project.

Basketball

At Victoria High school on Tuesday, Nov. 30th, one of the best games in the junior league was played between First Baptist and Westminster. First Baptist 26, Westminster 14. Close checking and speed were the outstanding features of the game. Judged by quality of play the teams were evenly matched and Baptist were lucky to get such a lead on their opponents.

During the first half Westminster were time and again most unfortunate in not scoring, the ball frequently poising itself on the rim of the basket but refusing to go through. All the sharpshooters of the Baptist team were closely watched and only by taking full advantage of their few opportunities did they score.

For First Baptist Richards and Miller proved to be a safe pair of guards, and the shooting of Smith as usual was deadly. Orr, Donald and Carver worked like Trojans for Westminster and were inferior to none on the floor.

First Baptist—A. Smith, D. Hull, D Lundy, M. Richards, S. Miller.

Westminster—R. Orr, H. Donald, F. Carver, K. Taylor, P. Harrold.

On Wednesday, Dec. 1st, at the Y M. C. A., St. Paul's continued their unbroken run of successes by defeating Rundle B. 13-5. As the low score would indicate, the checking was close on both sides, while the shooting was below the standard of other games. Walker, Rundle guard played a star defence game, while Williams, Judge and Miles were the outstanding men on the St. Paul's team.

Rundle B—C. Swanson, D. Winkelaws, P. Rudyk, S. Walker, R. McKechnie.

St. Pauls—J. Jaeger, W. Mills, N. Williams, J. Lord, B. Bellamy.

The star football team of the churches which defeated Calgary this fall surprised Edmonton. There is also another surprise due the public from the boy basketballers if they keep up the present standard of play.

HARNESS MEN HAD BEST OF GOOD SEASON

More Meetings, More Horses And More Money Feature of Past Grand Circuit

By Frank S. Cooke

Grand circuit racing this year developed the fact that the future of the old American sport not only is safe, but that it is going to be even more brilliant than in the past. And this with the insistend demand for well bred young things and mares that should become notable producers firmly established trotting and pacing in spite of the fact that the old guard so called, is marching on.

In the first place there was more racing on the mile tracks than in many years. Fourteen cities were in the Grand circuit and they provided 16 weeks of racing. At these meetings there were [illegible] races in which 2,133 horses started. Last year there were 13 meetings with 1,890 starters in 2[illegible] races. The gain is substantial. This year $55[illegible] was distributed in purses and stakes while the total last year was $456,142.50.

Toledo Has the Fastest Track

When the new track at Toledo was opened a few years back the very first day saw a world record tumbled by the free-for-all pacers. That proved the contention of the track managers that there was no faster mile oval anywhere.

The average time of the heats on the Grand circuit this year was 2:07 2-4, and the fastest average of any week was the second meeting at Toledo, the figure being 2:06 1-3. Toledo being the favorite track of the Detroit folk who patronize the big line, it is gratfyng that the limit of speed can be seen at the enclosure of our next door neighbor.

From the very start at North Randall the performances were exceptional and new records came with almost every meeting. One of the real features was the closing session at Atlanta, where not so much had been expected in the way of speed, for several records went to the credit of the splendid oval farthest south.

Single G. Greatest Pacer

Now and then we write of the greatest horse of all times. It is pretty well conceded that the honor among trotters still belongs to Cresceus. Various pacers have bobbed up, Dan Patch, Earl Jr., and a couple of others but the greatest of their gait is Single G. This tough piece of horseflesh made that statement certain in his [illegible] mile track race when he lowered [illegible] record for three heats, winning [illegible] miles in 1:59, 2:00 and 2:00 1-2.

Single G. has been racing a long time. His start as a three-year-old was dimmed by the presence of William, which horse raced in 2:05, but Single G. made him do it. Next year he won an exciting race on the half mile track at the state fair grounds, beat 2:08 on twice-arounds, and stood a lot of the mile track horses on their heads. After that he became the hard nut in the free-for-all division and year in and out e has held his place.

Not all of his starts have been victories, in fact this year they said he was about through, but in the late the final races inaf wtwtfayau wauw the final drives and wound up the greatest racing pacer the turf ever has known.

Winners of Most Money

Peter Manning leads the money winning trotters with $26,550 to his credit. But for an accident he would not have been at the top of the list. Murphy counted on Alta Donovan, zy Justice Brooke, for the stakes and there is little doubt but what she would have made good. The accident at Columbus which threw her out of the game for the season caused Murphy to revise his program and start Peter Manning at the second Cleveland meeting. He had intended holding this fellow over for the stakes of 1921.

In his first race Peter Manning trotted in 2:03 1-2. Murphy was injured that same day and next week Peter Manning was distanced at Philadelphia with eers driving. He did not start at Poughkeepsie. Murphy insisted on getting back in the sulky and drove the gelding to victory at Boston, Hartford and Syracuse. Cox won two races with him at Columbus and Stokes two at Lexington and two at Atlanta, making Peter Manning's score 10 out of 11 starts. His mile in 2:02 1-2 in the third heat at Lexington is the fastest race mile trotted this year.

Arion Guy stands second among money winners with $16,476 to his credit, and Peter Coley third, winning eight races and $15,966.

Young trotters had a great year of it. Airon Guy proved the best race horse among the three-year-olds and Sister Bertha the fastest in that division. Voltage, Daystar, Natalie the Great, Signal Peter and Great Britton also won fame.

The two-year-olds were a rare lot. Only five went in 2:10 last year, whereas ten stepped into the select circle this season. Jane Volo, Favonian and Bogalusa fought it out for weeks and Bogalusa was the best among them. Then came the finals and the introduction of Rose Scott the best of the lot, trotting in 2:06 1-2. At the last meeting Bogalusa knocked this mark down to 2:06 1-4 in a flight against time, paced by Charley Rex, the oldest trotter on the circuit.

MARSHALL-WELLS VS REVILLONS

Marshall-Wells and Revillons were the guests of the Y. M. C. A. at the weekly Wednesday night athletic contests being conducted by the association. Marshall-Wells started off with two wins. Arnell and Milling had the better of Gilbridge and McCoig at billiards and Wells winning at quoits 15 to 8. In baseball Emma-Ws won 8 to 4. Revillons won the volleyball 21 to 12 and the basketball 23 to 20. The dog fight was a draw and the newspaper relay was won by Revillons

IS HOCKEY WAR ENTERING SECOND PHASE; MANAGER E. WOLFE ASKS QUESTION

Writes Frank Patrick Asking if Offer of $1,000 For Evidence of Dishonesty in Coast League Still Stands—Refuses to Give Information as to Reasons For Asking Peculiar Question

Is the hockey war entering on a new phase?

Last winter Frank Patrick published in Vancouver papers an offer to pay $1,000 for evidence or proof of dishonesty in the Coast league. The offer was made as the result of rumors of irregularities circulating on the coast. No evidence was forthcoming. No evidence appeared to be in existence.

Last night Earl Wolfe, manager of the Dominion hockey team of the Big Four circuit, wrote to Frank Patrick asking if the offer still stands. Mr. Wolfe refused to make any statement about it. He declined to talk. Asked if he had any evidence of dishonesty he replied: "I have nothing to say."

When asked what he would do if he did have any evidence of dishonesty, he replied: "I would not give it to the newspapers." Mr. Wolfe was reticent about the affair, but admitted that he had written the letter.

The body of Mr. Wolfe's letter is as follows:

"I understand that during the latter part of last season you offered $1,000 reward for evidence of any dishonesty in the Pacific Coast Hockey League. What period of years does this cover and also does it still apply? Will be obliged for an early reply giving full details."

SEATTLE, Wn., Dec. 1.—Boy McCormick, English light heavyweight, won a four-round decision over Fireman Jim Flynn, of Pueblo, here last night.

Behind the Footlights

HAS PRINCIPAL ROLE IN "GEISHA"

Miss Kitty Arthur, one of the most delightful Canadian song-birds will have the principal role in F. Stuart Whyte's forth-coming production of Sydney Jones' charming musical comedy, "The Geisha," when it plays here at the Empire theatre for three days commencing Monday, December 6.

Miss Arthur will be remembered for her clever work and brilliant singing in two of Mr. Whyte's productions, viz: "Cinderella" in which she played the valet to the Prince, and in "San Toy" in which she played "Poppy" and sang "A Posy From Over the Sea" and "Maid of Cadiz."

In her role of "The Geisha" she will have more opportunity for the display of her exceptional vocal talents than in anything in which she has yet appeared.

BANJO ARTIST IS CLEVER FEATURE IN PANTAGES SERIES

Did you ever see a man play three banjos at the same time? At first thought you will contend that this is impossible, but it is not, for George Howard does it at the Pantages theatre this week. He keeps the three of them juggling in the air and as they pass through his hand he strikes a note or a cord on each one, all the time maintaining tempo in such manner that a complete musical selection is produced. Both members of the act are masters of the banjo. The climax comes when they offer a repertoire from the operas with a novel scenic effect whereby the appropriate setting for each number is shown. The excerpts are out of the ordinary, including gems from "Carmen," "William Tell" and the Flower song from "Faust."

This week's headliner is a story book revue, the "Doll Frolics." The dancing of the members of this act ranges all the way from an Egyptian number of classical postures to an eccentric cakewalk which brings back memories of old days south of the Mason and Dixon line. The Melnotte Duo in their ladder and wire act set at naught Sir Isaac Newton's well known law of gravity, while the Four Bell Hops have a clever acrobatic novelty with the scene laid in a hotel lobby. "All For Fun," presented by Redmond and Wells, and a farcical playlet, "The Petticoat Man," the offering of Baldwin-Blair and Co. round out an excellent bill.

"Outlaws of the Deep" is a Detective Flynn droma, adapted for the screen by William Mizner. One of the concluding scenes of The Lost City is also shown upon the screen, in addition to the weekly installment of the Fox News.

Scene from Mack Sennett's "Married Life"

Showing at the Allen for the last three days of this week.

Photo-Plays

REGENT—Is sex recognized in business? Harvey Judson a Wall Street railroad manipulator and business rival of Mary Willard, president of the N.Y. & S.R.R. told her that business recognized no sex, and all the time he was planning a raid that he thought would be easy to put over because she was a woman—one of the "weaker sex."

But this Judson had much to learn. Aroused to the necessity of protecting her stockholders, Mary kidnapped the young man and put him through a course of training that eventually made of the railroad-grabbing, money-loving Wall Street wolf a tamed young man hopelessly in love with his trainer.

This brief outline cannot begin to do justice to "The Deadlier Sex," Blanche Sweet's newest Jesse D. Hampton-Pathe photoplay, now showing at the Regent theatre for three days commencing today. It is a comedy drama from the pen of Bayard Veiller, who wrote "The Thirteenth Chair," and "Within the Law." Mahlon Hamilton, Winter Hall, Russell Simpson, Roy Laidlaw and Boris Karloff figure conspicuously in the supporting cast.

MONARCH —Everybody—that is, every male person of red blood—likes to see a good two-fisted fight between he-men. When there is mystery attached to the fight, it satisfies the brain as well as brute instinct.

In "The Open Door," the big mystery drama showing at the Monarch the last half of this week, two husky men are seen in a smashing big hand-to-hand fight in a brokerage office. There is no explanation of the cause of the fight until toward the end of the picture when the reason for the enmity is made apparent by the subsequent developments.

This novel method of creating dramatic suspense proves highly effective and keeps the observer on the edge of his seat trying to figure out what is going to happen next.

When one of the men is found murdered, suspicion naturally rests on the other as the guilty party. The atmosphere of mystery holds right up to the final climax, in which is resolved one of the most baffling plots ever shown on the screen.

The author of this drama, Garfield Thompson, has succeeded in creating a new type of mystery play, one that will hold an audience spellbound for six reels of tense action.

EMPRESS—With the towering California redwoods as a background, William Russell provides for the eyes and thrills for the heart in "The Man who Dared," a new William Fox drama written by Julius G. Furthman, which will be shown at the Empress today, Thursday and Saturday.

The story is that of Big Jim O'Kane a lumberjack boss who falls in love with the girl upon whom the sheriff has set his heart. The sheriff is a powerful figure, but before the play is over he finds that it is very unhealthy to be at war with Big Jim O'Kane. As for the girl—well, she is played by pretty Eileen Percy, a newcomer with Fox, who has become a star; who possesses a charming face and figure, winsome Irish grace of manner and real ability to portray emotion.

Something must be said about the setting, which is superb, and reflects great credit upon the photographer, Clyde de Vinna, and the director, Emmett J. Flynn. The supporting cast contains well known names—Frank Brownlee, Fredy Warre and Lon Poff.

ALLEN—Phyllis Haver, who plays the leading feminine role in Mack Sennett's newest five-reel super-comedy, "Married Life," showing at the Allen the last half of this week, came to the screen after making her first public appearances in a motion picture playhouse. It happened at a residential photo-play house, in Los Angeles, where the orchestra consisted of—Phyllis. She was the pianist and her weekly (or, as she spelled it, just coming out from under high school influences, "w-e-a-k-l-y") stipend was twenty dollars. It was her engrossing duty to follow the action of the plot upon the screen and supply the "atmospheric" music, mostly rag-time and popular songs of the day. She says she held her job till her repertoire gave out. She only knew about twenty compositions of the desired kind and when the boss himself became acquainted with them, he asked her for variety. Whereupon, aiming to please, the immature Phyllis played the sad merry music in the sad places, but somehow, this didn't please the manager, who fired her.

Meanwhile the "screen" had entered the life of Phyllis who had no difficulty in securing a "test" at the Mack Sennett Studios. She passed the test with great and contoured glory and became a Bennett Bathing girl. Native gifts in acting added to her natural gifts of grace and beauty promoted her to small roles and thence to large ones until now Miss Phyllis Haver contemplates starship without so much as a blink of her pretty eyes.

Secrets of the Movies Revealed

Q—How is the so called "soft focus" or "velvet focus" effect secured in pictures?

A—Arthur Todd, a cameraman on the Pacific coast calls his invention the "velvet focus." It consists of a square of fine glass placed over the camera lens upon which is sprayed a solution of glycerine and water. Todd also secures the soft artistic effects by photographing through a chemical treated screen. Soft effects of this nature are also secured by having a lens just a trifle out of focus and also by the photographing through very fine silk.

Q—What famous character actor began his theatrical career when he was eleven years old as a stage hand at twenty-five cents per night?

A—Lon Cheney, who began his stage career in spite of the protests of his family in his home town of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Q—Who is the beautiful moving picture actress who recently refused a fortune because the terms of the will required her to give up motion picture work?

A—Irene Rich, who probably figured that her face was her fortune and that she did not need any additional fortune.

Q—What prominent authoress has a niece who makes her screen debut in the picture "Noblesse Oblige?"

A—Gertrude Atherton's niece. Her name is Jane Atherton.

Q—What photoplay director has written a number of musical selections which are used in the follies?

A—Victor Schertzinger.

Who is the youngest star in motion pictures. The name of this actress will be revealed in tomorrow's department.

Mayor Clarke Called to Account By Indignant Citizen at Labor Meeting Held at Alberta Avenue

Amid Uproar J. Rutherford Assents That Candidate is "Not Fit to be Mayor"—Ald. McCoppen Explains Terms of His Lease And Says He is Victim of "Mud-Slinging"—Dr. Crang Denounces The Bank

Municipal candidates on the labor ticket occupied the stage at the Rose theatre, Alberta avenue, on Wednesday night. The feature of the evening was the "set-to" between Mayor Clarke and J. Rutherford. Mr. Rutherford to be gathered from his remarks, contended that he had not been given a square deal by the city commissioners in connection with a sewer on his property, and he got after the mayor in no undecided fashion. There was quite an uproar and some attempt to shout down Mr. Rutherford. Advancing to the foot of the platform, he told the mayor to swallow what he said, and pointing with one hand to the mayor, and with the other arm stretched to the audience: "That man will not be mayor, he is not fit to be mayor."

Mr. Rutherford asserted that he could not get any action from the city council until they were threatened with suit for damages. The mayor, when questioned by Mr. Rutherford, said that he could not remember all the details of the transaction, but that after he had secured some written evidence on the matter he would be willing to discuss the subject with him in public at any time.

Alberta Avenue Paving

The state of Alberta avenue paving has been a very sore point with the local residents all summer and quite naturally the matter was discussed. The mayor informed the audience that the reason the paving had not been remedied was on account of the by-laws not being passed in the first instance and later, when the council intended to carry out some cindering there, a petition was received from a number of the residents objecting to it being done.

Mr. Cormirk asked if it needed a by-law to fill the holes, and the mayor answered that it had been dragged, but he knew that on the hard ground the dragging had not been very satisfactory.

In the course of his speech the mayor said that he had reduced the payment of interest to the bank this year to something over $7,000 against $19,000 last year, and $55,000 in 1918.

That McCopen Lease

The McCopen lease was brought well into the limelight for the reason that Ald. McCoppen asked the audience to accept his statement concerning the lease as a contradiction to what he termed the "mud-slinging" of J. W. Adair. In the first place Ald. McCoppen made the unfair accusation against The Bulletin of saying that it had refused to publish any explanation by him, a statement quite wide of the mark.

Mr. McCoppen went on to describe the history of the lease, saying that he had given the widow of a Mr. Ellis who formerly carried on a printing business at the place, a consideration for the lease, after she had tried to sell the business and was unable to do so. The lease, under which the rental was $30 per month, was renewed by Mayor Henry, and also by Mayor Evans.

The speaker then stated how he had applied for another lease this year, and it was left by council to the city commissioners to make the terms with him, and a lease was drawn up with which set the first year's rent at $50 then the rent was increased during some three or four years and would be $75 in the last year. Also there were some other provisions including that he was to build a garage and also make the place a beauty spot. The speaker said that Mr. Adair was well aware of all the terms yet he (the speaker) was being made the victim of "mud-slinging."

The speaker omitted to state how much rent he was paying at the present time, but said the new lease came into force next year.

About Utility Deficits

When touching upon financial matters, the alderman was asked, by a questioner from the back of the hall if any part of the utility deficits, such as the street railway deficit, was made up from direct taxation.

When answering, Ald. McCoppen said that it was, and had to be immediately corrected, by Ald. Kinney and East who were present. Ald. Kinney then mounted the platform, and explained that no tax was ever levied to make up these deficits.

Sell If Do Not Pay

A. Stimmel, the latest mayoralty candidate to appear, spoke and propounded his policy of selling all the utilities if they did not pay.

Aldermanic candidates addressing the meeting included D. Knott, A. Farmilo, G. Latham, W. G. Murray, and A. Boileau.

School Board Candidates

The school board candidates appearing were Dr. Crang, J. W. Heron, and J. W. H. Williams, who all secured a good reception.

Dr. Crang made out a plea for party government, saying that they had been accused of fractional administration on the school board, he argued that the opposing sections on the school board made inquiry into its affairs more keenly. He defended the salary increases by saying the hospital board had increased nurses salaries 49 per cent, and then went on to take a "slam" at the bank, saying that it had tried to keep salaries from the teachers. He remarked that the bank clerks should be glad to have Farmilo go and organize them as they were among the poorest paid employees in the city.

BARON DESBOROUGH FALLS, BIRMINGHAM WAS MAKING SPEECH

LONDON, Dec. 1—Baron Desborough died suddenly tonight, while making a speech at a dinner at Birmingham, according to The London Times.

Baron Desborough (William Grenfell) was one of the world's best known sportsmen. In early life he was a famous oarsman. Later he was identified with the international inter-collegiate games and with the Olympic contests, representing England at a meeting of the international committee in 1911. He was president of the British Olympic council in 1912.

Baron Desborough was born in 1855. He served as president of the London chamber of commerce and of the British imperial council of commerce. Among his exploits were big game hunting in many parts of the world, swimming twice across Niagara, and stroking an eight across the English channel. He won the Epee prize military tournament in 1904-6 and held the punting championship for three years. He played on the Harrow eleven; represented Oxford in the three mile race versus Cambridge in 1876, and rowed on the Oxford crew against Cambridge in 1877.

NEW MAGISTRATE TO AID POLICE IN CROW'S NEST PASS

Appointment of Captain J. W. Gresham Announced by Hon. J. R. Boyle Wednesday

The appointment of Capt. James W. Gresham, of Blairmore to be travelling police magistrate in the Crow's Nest Pass district, is announced by Hon. J. R. Boyle attorney general.

"We have found it necessary to have police court trials held promptly in order that evidence may be available," says Mr. Boyle, "for in liquor prosecutions particularly we find that witnesses have a habit of disappearing if action in court is delayed."

Capt. Gresham will be available at all places in the Crow's Nest Pass where trials are required to be held on short notice. The new magistrate served overseas four years.

RAIL STRIKE TIES UP ALL NORWEGIAN LINES

CHRISTIANA, Norway, Nov. 30.—Ten thousand railway employees were ordered on strike at midnight tonight which will stop the entire Norwegian railway service. The strike is due to the government having refused to consider demands for increased wages until the strike notices first were withdrawn.

Over Four Thousand More Autos In Operation This Year Than In 1919 Alta License Books Show

Thirty-eight Thousand Number Plates Have Been Purchased From Government This Season Compared With Thirty-four Thousand Last Year—Drop in Grain Prices Stopped Auto Buying in Spite of Bumper Crops.

The automobile licensing department of the province is another of the governmental branches which has been setting up old records and knocking them down in the year now drawing to an end. The issue of number plates for gas vehicles of this nature exceeds by more than four thousand the record of 1919.

Provincial Deputy Secretary E. Trowbridge announced Wednesday morning that the total number of automobile licenses sold this year is 38,050, as compared with 34,000 last year. It was thought three months ago that the annual issue would reach the even 40,000 mark before the end of the present year, but the drop in grain prices is held accountable for the slackening of auto purchasing during the fall, a factor directly responsible for many other commercial relapses in the west of late.

Auto operation, however, has been unusually favored during the entire season by excellent weather and equally good roads, and the absence of snow and storms during October and November has enabled auto license holders to use them to the fullest advantage. Last year practically all auto traffic was suspended by the middle of October.

PLEADS GUILTY TO FORGERY CHARGE

Police Say John Choma Tells in Written Statement What He Did With $1,485

John Choma entered a plea of guilty in the city police court on the charge of forgery, and was committed to stand his trial in the superior court. Accused, it is claimed by the police, has given a written statement of disposition of the $1,485 which he drew from the Imperial bank, and which was the entire account of his room mate, John Lostichuk.

Albert Bryon, a youth of seventeen years, was arraigned on the charge of theft. His case was adjourned till December 8th. In the meantime the accused will be cared for by the Salvation army.

KELLY FIRM GETS BIG CUT IN AWARD

Winnipeg, Dec. 1—The Manitoba appeal court today cut $615,213 from the award made to the provincial government by an arbitration board against the firm of Thomas Kelly & Sons for alleged faulty construction of caissons under the new Manitoba parliament buildings.

The case has been dragging through the courts for the past five years. Practically half the award made the government was set aside by the appeal court.

The judgment means a loss to the province of approximately $1,00,000 Interest on the sum for the past five years amounted to over $300,000. The amount now owing the government by Kelly is $588,139.65 with interest at five pe rcent since 1915.

The province may take an appeal to the supreme court of Canada.

TRAGIC DETAILS OF MASSACRE MAY NEVER COME OUT

Road is Thought to Have Been Mined or Trench Dug Across It

Cork, Dec. 1.—Details of the tragic story of Sunday evening's massacre near Kilmichael, in which fifteen auxiliary police recruits were shot to death, may never come to light. The only available source of information is the sole surviving member of the party who was severely wounded and is believed to be dying in the military hospital here.

A meagre story of the event, gasped out by the wounded man, has been told officials sitting by his bedside. He has declared that the party of recruits met an armed band marching in the road, the men wearing khaki suits and "tin hats." The recruits mistook them in the fading light for soldiers, and thus fell into an ambush.

Statements from other quarters would seem to indicate that the annihilation of the party of recruits can be accounted for only on the theory that the road was mined or a trench had been dug across it. So far as is known there were no casualties on the side of the assailants.

It appears that the recruits left the village of Macroon early on Sunday to conduct raids and searches in the countryside stretching toward Dunman. The entire day was occupied with this work, and it was late in the evening when the party started on its return journey. One account of the incident states that at a secluded spot a deep trench had been dug across the road and into it the leading lorry plunged. The second lorry, which was travelling fast, ran into the wrecked car, it is said, and the occupants of both became easy victims of the men who planned the attack.

Police officials at Macroon were ignorant of the tragedy until Monday, when a party was sent to scour the country for the missing men.

Police authorities here still claim to be gaining the upper hand in the fight against extremists. They assert the men responsible for ambuscades and assassinations feel they are being driven into a corner. They are receiving no protection from the people, and move about the countryside in bands of from one hundred to three hundred, forcing farmers it is declared to provide them with food.

"Every man of them is known to us," said an official today, "so they do not dare to scatter and return to their homes, because they know they would be arrested immediately. It is only a question of rounding them up, which may take considerable time, especially in rough mountainous country like that surrounding the scene of Sunday night's ambush."

INCREASED FREIGHT RATES APPLY TO ELECTRIC LINES

Ottawa, Nov. 30—(Canadian Press)—The Railway Commission without holding formal hearings today issued an order granting the application of the British Columbia Electric railway to have the increased freight rates granted to the steam railway systems apply to freight carried by that company. The new rates will become effective as from December 6, 1920. The increase in freight rates under the recent judgment in western Canada was 35 per cent. until January 31, when it will drop to thirty per cent and this increase will apply to the applicant company from the date mentioned.

BOYS' SESSION TO SIT IN EXECUTIVE COUNCIL CHAMBER

Junior Parliament of Province Will Not Use Legislative Assembly Chamber

The boys' parliament of the province, which is to be held in this city December 28, 29 and 30, and which is to be conducted along the regular lines followed by the legislative assembly of the province, has been creating widespread interest in local circles through Alberta. Elections will be held and members sent to Edmonton from the various provincial constituencies now represented in the legislature.

Some misinformation appears to have been published recently in connection with the coming session of boys in the capital. It was asserted some days ago in one newspaper that the boys' parliament while in session, would use the legislative chamber in the provincial parliament buildings. This appears to have been an error, for the use of the legislative chamber for the purpose was never requested from Premier Stewart. The application made on behalf of the boys some time ago asked for the use of the council chamber, and this request was granted by the Premier. The council chamber is the room where the executive council of the government holds sessions. The legislative chamber is never used except for the regular sessions of the legislative assembly of the province.

SETS HIGH MARK FOR 61ST BATTERY IN EVERY ELEMENT

Major Mewburn And Staff Working on Plans For Complete Organization

With the prospect of the formation of the Artillery Association being completed at an early date, Major F. H. H. Mewburn, officer commanding the newly organized 61st battery of the C. F. A., is now at work with his officers on the completion of a plan for a big re-union to be held in Edmonton at an early date.

Another meeting of the committee in charge of arrangements will be held at the Armories tonight at 8 o'clock in conjunction with the battery parade called for the same time, when further steps toward organization will be taken.

Already a large number of ex-artillerymen have handed in their names and addresses to the provisional secretary and all these, together with other men who have not yet had an opportunity of getting into touch with the organizers, are requested to be on hand at the armories tonight.

Several vacancies still exist in the personnel of the battery and intending recruits are requested to hand in their names or attend at the Armories and Wednesday evening.

That the battery will have a fine array of athletic talent is now assured. An indoor baseball team is now in process of formation, while it is also intended to have a boxing instructor who will take charge of any of the artillery men who are aspiring to fistic fame.

"We have one man already who bids fair to be a second Bombardier Billy Wells without any of that boxer's erratic temperament," stated one of the officers in charge of physical instruction yesterday, "and in a short time we may uncover a real champion."

This boxer was one of the divisional champions with the Egyptian Field Force, where was a bombardier in a battery operating in that theatre of war He has only recently arrived in the city, and is joining the new association while here.

In addition to the indoor baseball and boxing, the battery promises to be one of the leading military organizations in other fields of athletic endeavor and Major Mewburn is also appointing an energetic committee to take charge of the purely social affairs of the association and the battery.

The gunners of other military centers have long been noted for their activities in military, athletic and social circles, and Major Mewburn and his officers are determined that the 61st Battery will keep up this well deserved reputation in Edmonton.

As the result of recent arrests eleven men appeared in the city court yesterday and were fined for violations of the motor vehicles act.

Matthew Esdale, George Hunt and Boyce E. Green were convicted and fined $5 and costs on the charge of speeding. James Brown on the same offence was fined $10 and costs, and Joseph E. Morrow was fined $15.

On the charge of having glaring headlights Jacob M. Webb and Thomas B. Chapman were found guilty and fined $10.

On the charge of operating their cars without having lights on, Bertram Wilkinson, Robert Burns, and Ernest Hitzenburg were each fined $10. The charge against Michael E. Barry was withdrawn.
